NINE DIE AS FIRE WIPES OUT TOWN

DEATH TOLL ONLY FOUR THUS FAR

Property Damage Put
At Millions; Relief
Given Thousands

WACO, Tex., (AP)—Hundreds of lowland families dropped rehabilitation work and fled for their lives again today when central Texas rivers did an unwelcome encore to last week's disastrous floods.

Property loss, estimated at $5,000,000 after last week's floods, rapidly climbed into additional millions, but loss of life was held to a minimum. Four deaths had been attributed to autumnal rains and record overflows.

Thousands received emergency relief as streams and tributaries equalled, in some sections, flood stages attained during the 1921 flood that took 224 lives in the area.

Families Flee Again

In Brown and McCulloch counties, more than 100 families who had moved back into homes ruined a week ago, fled today as the Colorado river at Winchell, 19 miles south of Brownwood, reached a 56-foot stage at 11 a. m. It continued to rise a foot an hour towards last week's high mark of nearly 60 feet.

Advices received at Brownwood said the river was dropping at Rockwood, Coleman county, after reaching a 70-foot stage late last night. Residents said the flood could not be as disastrous as that of a week ago. All crops were destroyed there.

No Gas in 17 Towns
Brazos river waters started receding at Waco as 2500 homeless sought emergency relief. The flood stage was 38 feet at 9 a. m. as compared to 41 feet at its height. W. T. Torrance, city manager of Waco, estimated damage at $500,000.

Seventeen towns below Waco were without gas when the Lone Star Gas Company's suspension bridge on the Brazos was washed out. The towns included Temple, Belton, Little River, Moody, Eddy, Holland, Cameron, Rockdale, Rosebud, Lott, Taylor, Troy, Georgetown, Round Rock, Granger, South Waco and Bartlett.

U. S. NARCOTICS RAIDS ORDERED

WASHINGTON (AP)—The treasury today threw 2500 narcotics agents and law enforcement officers into a nation-wide drive against narcotics and illicit liquor. In scattered cities throughout the country, treasury agents were ordered to make a series of sudden raids in an effort to round up a large number of suspected law breakers.

Officials said several hundred arrests were expected to result from the raids.

Although the drive will be centered on narcotics and liquor, treasury officials reported that counterfeiting, customs violations and any other illegal activities within the province of treasury law enforcement would be included.

KVOE on Air Again Tuesday

Radio station KVOE was off the air today, preparing to conduct final equipment tests beginning at 1 a. m. tomorrow. The station will probably resume its programs Tuesday or Wednesday, Manager E. L. Spencer said today.

Tear Shed for Shaving Mug

CHICAGO, (AP)—Sadness hung like a London fog over the sessions of the beauty and barber supply institute's thirty-third convention today.

The members said the waning virility of American men had injured business.

In all the United States last year, lamented Abraham Rappaport, jobber of shaving mugs, there were ordered only 100 fancy cups with the customer's name engraved in gilt.

Rebels Capture Toledo; Free Alcazar Defenders

Blast Hurts 11, Perils 400

STRIKE FEAR OTHERS QUIT VANISHES GOLD BLOC

Local Vegetable Workers
Continue on Job as
Season Nears End

Possibility of a vegetable strike here had almost vanished today, although a month's truce between Japanese growers and Mexican workers will expire next Monday.

A new arbitration board to consider the demands of both sides was to have been selected and to have acted by Oct. 5, but preparations today showed only a tentative arrangement for a meeting Wednesday with Thomas Barker, deputy state labor commissioner.

Prime reason for believing there will be no strike is that the peak of the tomato season already is past, and another week will see the season far advanced.

Should negotiations fail after the end of the truce, the short remaining time left in the season would make a strike an almost impossibility.

Litvinoff Attacks Nazism, Fascism

(Copyright, 1936, by Associated Press) GENEVA.—Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet foreign commissar, tonight launched a fierce attack before the League of Nations assembly against Nazism and Fascism, declaring them to be "the deadly enemies of all working people and of civilization."

Without mentioning Germany by name, Litvinoff opposed the entry into the league of any nation founded on the idea of "racial and national inequality which describes all people except its own as sub-human."

Things had come to such a pass, reported Gustave A. Schiele, that he had resorted to red handies in the hope of reviving sales of straight razors—the kind tough bearded men used to use.

Mrs. Joan Gelb, though, came a ray of cheer. She said cinema actors and actresses were buying more hair dye than at any time since the platinum blond craze.

Observers predicted final chamber endorsement of the devaluation program by night.

Victory Expected
Premier Blum won his first parliamentary victory for the devaluation legislation when the chamber of deputies, in an extraordinary session, defeated a rightist motion to send the legislation back to the finance committee by a vote of 365 to 248.

Observers predicted final chamber endorsement of the devaluation program by night.

GOVERNMENT FORCES ARE ROUTED

Loyal Troops Flee South
As Fascists Grab
Madrid Road

(Copyright, 1936, by Associated Press) TOLEDO, Spain.—A Fascist army, 8000 strong, commanded the ancient city of Toledo today after routing government defenders and freeing comrades from the ruins of the long-besieged fortress, Alcazar. The government forces fled to the south and east, their path north to Madrid blocked by insurgent In the night, the loyalist militia stopped at intervals to shell Toledo and then sped on their way.

Free Alcazar Defenders
The Fascist troops smashed their way into the city yesterday afternoon. Their first step was to free the joyous Alcazar defenders, who for 10 weeks had resisted shell fire, dynamite and gasoline fumes directed against their battered fortress by government fighters.

The Alcazar—more than 1200-year-old fortress—spilled forth its insurgent detachments who joined the battle with trembling shouts of "Viva Espana!"

Only 80 Dead
Delirious with enthusiasm over release from their self-made prison to which they fled after government forces dominated sternly the rebellion in Toledo, they charged the defending lines.

Official reports said all but 80 of the original population of the Alcazar had been rescued alive, but that 500 of the long-imprisoned men, women and children had been wounded.

Between the withering blasts from before and behind, the last Socialist lines scattered and fled. The siege of Toledo, immediate objective in the southern Fascist army march on the capital, was consummated.

The Madrid government, mapping elaborate plans for a counter attack in the Toledo sector, ordered the city evacuated.

STRIVE TO HALT DOCK TIE-UP

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Federal conciliators worked against time here today in efforts to avert a labor dispute tie-up of Pacific coast maritime shipping Oct. 1.

Extension of the Wednesday limit set by employers for expiration of union working agreements was immediate objective of the conciliators.

Assistant Secretary of Labor Edward F. McGrady declined to comment, however, on details of an agreement.

LAMBS LAUGH AT LOCKS

Pay Six Bits for Canal Fee

"We felt like a couple of nuts sitting out there in a battered old canoe with newsreel cameras cranking..."

So wrote Dana Lamb, son of Tax Collector John C. Lamb, as he took his 16-foot canoe through the Panama canal on route home.

The Lambs are completing a two-year trip down the South American coast and back, in their tiny craft.

Their canoe, which carries official ship's papers listing Lamb as captain and Mrs. Lamb as first mate, was the smallest official ship ever to be cleared through the Panama canal. The couple figured in headlines recently when they were rescued from Cocos Island, where Lamb was ill, and taken to Camp Blanco for medical treatment.

Only 15 and a high school sophomore, Betty Jane Schultz will make her grand opera debut with the Chicago civic opera company this season. Known professionally as Betty Jaynes, she possesses a mature soprano voice and is believed the youngest person to win an opera contract. She was termed "a rare genius" by the opera's manager. ## 'Go to Mexico or Remain Hungry'

"They go to Mexico or they go hungry!" That in effect was the edict of the county welfare department today when it was faced with a demand from representatives of the Workers Alliance of Orange county that families of four Mexicans in the county jail be fed by the county, despite their refusal to return to Mexico.

The four were given the alternative of jail sentences of 10 months or returning to Mexico, by Superior Judge James L. Allen, after they had been convicted of rioting during the citrus strike. Each of them chose to go to jail.

Organizer Talks
The Workers' Alliance delegation was headed by H. G. Eaton of Los Angeles, and "organizer" for the group, which he termed a spokesmen of unemployed workers. Spokesman was A. R. Eolen, of Santa Ana, county organizer.

"These people are starving," Eolen declared, "while their husbands are in jail."

An examination of welfare department records showed that relief had been given two families on Sept. 22. One of the other families belongs legally in Alameda county.

The northern county has agreed to accept them, Director Byron Curry said, and the wife refuses to return there.

To Probe Case
He promised an immediate investigation of circumstances surrounding the case, but said that unless a "reasonable reason can be shown for their refusal to return to Mexico the families will not be fed with county funds."

Two of the Mexicans, according to their spokesman, are "making up their minds." They have been in jail since Sept. 4.

Those given the alternative sentence by Judge Allen are Roberto Felix, Estaban Rodriguez, Leonardo Gregario and Aulero Ruiz.

Judge Allen, at the time of passing sentence, told them: "You can either accept the laws as you find them here, or you can go back to Mexico. Of all the foreigners in the United States today the Mexican provides the greatest load for this country. If you cannot be good citizens you must accept the consequences—or you must go home."

1500 Homeless in Oregon Area Hit By Forest Blaze

MARSHFIELD, Ore. (AP)—The death list in the Bandon forest fire disaster rose to nine today as CCC enrollees and federal and state officials searched the blackened ruins of 350 to 400 buildings reduced to ashes Saturday night.

Captain Lee Brown, of the state police, said nine bodies had been recovered and all but two identified.

About 200 men were picking their way through the ruins and of the 1500 residents at Bandon, only 40 were left in the town, the remainder being evacuated here or to homes relatives elsewhere in the state.

The dead:
John Rieder.
Mrs. Ida Hill.
Daniel Koontz, 70.
Mrs. Charles McCulloch, 65, sister of Koontz.
George Williams.
Mrs. George Williams.
Jack Bailey, killed by falling tree.

Two unidentified.
Roads out of Bandon were closed except for emergency use because of the danger of falling trees. The road here from Bandon was lined for miles by fire and those who used it ran a dangerous gauntlet.

State police at Coquille said: "If the wind changes, God help this place. It will go like Bandon did."

Bandon is a sickening sight. The streets are black. The grotesque skeleton of buildings stick up on every hand. There are about 20 buildings left out of what was once a pretty little beach town.

Few Buildings Saved
Strangest of all, the lumber yard and three mills did not burn. Those buildings with a small group of houses, a bakery and the high school are all that is left of Bandon. The grade school burned.

Almost the whole of timber-clad Southwestern Oregon was aflame today.

Fires crackled at the outskirts of Coquille, North Bend and Marshfield. Myrtle Point, 30 miles from Coquille, town of 2000, was reported in flames. The settlement of Prosper was wiped out. Damage was in the millions.

NEW SPUR TO DAM WORK

New spurs will be put to the activity heralding start of Orange county's $13,000,000 flood control program tomorrow, when appraisers setting value of lands to be purchased by Orange county for the project make their first progress report.

Three appraisers secured through the Federal Land Bank of Berkeley have been at work in Orange county for almost a month. Supervisor N. E. West, in demanding the progress report tomorrow, indicated he felt they should finish their work by Oct. 15. The county then will make a study of their figures, and call for a bond election to provide approximately $2,000,000 for the purchase of rights of way and flood easements.

Chairman John Mitchell said last week he expected the election to be called by Dec. 15. If so, and if the measure is approved by voters, bids for the major dam contract probably will be called by army engineers by Feb. 1, according to Major Theodore H. Wyman, head of the United States Army Engineering corps.

Plan Instruction
For Policemen
One Santa Ana policeman may be trained and designated as an instructor for his fellow officers under a new plan being worked out by the state and revealed Saturday at a peace officers' conference in Long Beach.

Harry Fink, assistant chief of the local department who attended the session, reported that instructors' schools were to be set up in eight cities for training of experienced officers. The officers would then set up classes for other members of their departments.

TILTON TELLS OF COUNTY'S ADVANTAGES

L. Deming Tilton, county planning consultant and a national authority in that field, was to speak here this afternoon to the first fall membership meeting of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce. Tilton was to speak on "Orange County as a Recreation Center." His talk followed a Community Chest meeting and a luncheon at the Green Cat cafe. The two events were combined.

Announce Members
President, Rex Kennedy of the chamber announced addition of 37 new members to the chamber of commerce since May 1, introducing the firms and their representatives.

New member firms and their representatives were announced as follows: Brooks Clothing store, J. C. Turner; Wessman's China store, Mrs. F. W. Wessman; C. M. Trusty and Son, electrical contractors; Kirby's Shoes, C. C. Skinner; Auto Club of Southern California, E. E. Heidt; Hayward Lumber and Investment company, Ralph Fell; Moss stores, Inc., Miss Jones; Dr. H. B. Nalle, dentist; Lynn Ostrander, company, Mrs. Cora Prather; Dr. A. Reed Shoe company, Richard A. Bradford. Southern California Freight Lines, Luke Miller; Home Oil company, Herbert Krahling and R. J. Grange; Main cafeteria, Pat Kelly; General Motors trucks, L. P. Mohler; Tubach and Cook, W. S. Tubach and W. A. Cook; W. H. Bowman, contractor; Eureka Paint and Glass store, Tom Geoghegan, jr.; Childers hatchery, Mrs. Emma C. Childers.

List Grows
Ludlum Carpet Cleaning works, H. E. Ludlum; Maroney's Furniture store, F. V. Maroney; Mattingley's Apparel shop, J. B. Mattingley; George W. Bond and Son; Haven Seed company, A. B. Haven; United Automotive service, L. M. Forcey; Hopkins, Hughey and Anderson, Carter Lane; Treesweet Products Co., H. L. Manker.

dered reinforcements for a "cold steel" charge. Throughout the night, troop laden lorries escorted by war planes, rumbled southward. The fresh troops were unable to contact the fleeing Socialist army of the south however, because Gen. Francisco Franco's insurgents had cut the Toledo-Madrid highway.

Meanwhile, at Bilbao on the Bay of Biscay coast, Spanish government warships gave the northern city a respite from Fascist attack. A naval bombardment halted the insurgent advance, and the warships conveyed food supplies into the harbor.

Ace Forecaster Predicts Wind For Next Friday

Have you turned in your prediction on Orange county's one-inch rain and first big wind yet? Join the parade and get your chance at that new hat or umbrella.

The Journal's ace predictor, John H. Trickey, of Orange, through today with definite prediction and a bid for a Dobbs Cross-country hat from Swanbergers.

The big wind, he states definitely, will arrive the evening of Oct. 2, next Friday, at 5:30 p. m. He submits with his prediction what he calls "another funny picture." This picture is not so funny, being a chart of the positions of the astral bodies in the heavens on Oct. 2, but it is, to a novice, unexplainable, so the contest editor is content to let Forecaster Trickey's prediction stand by itself.

Wind Tonight
Mrs. Grace Smith, 1033 West Sixth, Santa Ana, lost her rain guess, which was for Sept. 24, and just today she lost her big-wind prediction, which called for the breeze to begin last night. She should guess again.

He Was Famous Champion

Will the coming dog show in Santa Ana produce another champion like Heather Ambassador, shown here? This dog, from the kennels of Z. B. West, once was an international champion, with blue ribbons and medals from all over the United States and England.

Oct. 7 is the deadline for entries in the dog show to be held here by the American Legion auxiliary on Oct. 17 and 18, it was announced by Mrs. T. J. Neal.

Last year entries were received up to the last moment, but a new and strict ruling of the American Kennel club, under whose auspices the show is conducted, eliminates any registration within 10 days of the opening.

All breeders and owners of purebred dogs are urged to enter them in the contest, which will be judged by Alfred Delmont of Wynnewood, Pa. Delmont is acknowledged by experts to be one of the three leading breed authorities on this continent, and will judge all breeds.

Entry blanks and all information may be obtained at the Neel Sporting Goods store, or from Mrs. Robert Sandon, 1410 West Washington street.

HOGUE GIVEN P.O. HONOR

Mike Hogue, Brea postmaster, yesterday was elected vice president of the Tri-County Postmasters association when the unit was formed at a meeting in Riverside.

It embraces Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino counties. J. H. Allen, Riverside postmaster, was elected president. Other officers are Harold Rous, Yucaipa, second vice president, and Mrs. Vernie E. Sheridan, Ludlow, secretary-treasurer.

Attending from Orange county were Postmaster Frank Harwood of Santa Ana and Mrs. Harwood, Carl Brenner of Buena Park, Postmistress Mary Jane Davis of Stanton and Mr. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Haskins of Anaheim, Mr. and Mrs. Elden R. Deering of Anaheim, Bertha Hilbert of La Habra, Ailye Beard of Yorba Linda.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Roemer of San Juan Capistrano, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rider of Balboa Island, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Adams of Newport Beach, Myrtle Knouse of Westminster, Mr. and Mrs. Clair Head of Garden Grove, and George Ames of Santa Ana.

Orange county has 100 per cent membership, it was reported.

Also a letter from Mrs. Carrie Sherrill, 602 East Third, a second-guesser.

"I missed my guess," she writes, "on the big wind blowing on Sept. 16, and missed getting a hat, but that was the only day I ever wanted the wind to blow, so now I don't care whether it ever blows at all or not."

Wants Umbrella
"I already have lost a new hat, but I know it is going to rain on Oct. 2, and if it is going to rain as much as predicted I will need that umbrella to keep from getting my new hat wet. Anyway, I am waiting for that new umbrella, and you can't disappoint me twice."

So—there's some predictions to go on. Remember—the one who guesses closest to the big rain gets a new hat from Swanbergers, the one who comes closest to the rain wins a new umbrella from Rankin's. Get in the race.

CHEST WORK SPEEDS UP

Community Chest campaign leaders today were putting the final touches to the preparatory work for the appeal which must raise $35,658.70 for Santa Ana charity and welfare work during the coming year.

At noon the campaign council held a joint meeting in the membership of the chamber of commerce at a luncheon meeting at the Green Cat cafe. Final plans were laid for the official opening of the campaign at a "kick-off" dinner meeting of all workers in the organization next Thursday at 6:30 p. m. in the dining room of the Elks club.

At 4 o'clock this afternoon the advance gifts committee working under the leadership of W. B. Williams was to receive its assignments and instructions and begin immediately with the solicitation of subscriptions of $100 or more.

Company chairmen who are carrying on the campaign among their fellow-employees in establishments employing five or more people will launch their part of the effort at a dinner meeting at 6:15 p. m. today at the Green Cat cafe, when R. Carson Smith, chairman of the establishments division will give them their final instructions and issue working supplies.

Tomorrow the central division, which will solicit subscriptions in the $25 to $100 brackets, will meet for breakfast at 7:30 a. m. to receive instructions and assignments of duties from its chairman, Bob Fernandez.

It is expected that these divisions will have completed their part of the work by the end of the week.

RUSH CALL JUST FOR CLEANERS

A little girl who was going to call the cleaners for Mama got all the excitement she could use Saturday afternoon.

She got the wrong number, which turned out to be the police station. She didn't know it, and gave her address and asked "Would somebody please come out right away?"

Sirens screamed as officers made a dash for 1008 West Highland street. The little girl, they reported, wasn't even disappointed at seeing a patrol car instead of a cleaner's truck. It was fun.

Scouts to Get Awards Friday

With a week-end at Rokili in the San Bernardino mountains as a prize for the troop with the largest attendance of members and friends, hundreds of Boy Scouts from all parts of the county will gather here for a court of honor Friday night.

Frank Mitchell, former Tustin Scout now living in Pasadena, and Gordon Walker of Placentia are scheduled to receive Eagle Scout awards. Other rank and merit badge awards will number approximately 100.

The court will be held in Elks' hall at 7:30 p. m.

Skull Fractured In Auto Wreck

Injured in an automobile collision at Ocean avenue and Huntington Beach boulevard early today, Warren E. Harris, 31, Talbert, was being treated at the county hospital for skull fracture and cuts about the face.

Joe Lopez, Fullerton, was recovering from cuts and bruises incurred in another accident early today near Fullerton.

NOT ENOUGH CLOTHES

William Tippet, 39, Los Angeles cook, was held on indecent exposure charges in the county jail today. He was arrested by Santa Ana police early this morning.

Baby Born in Car Speeding Toward County Hospital

Mr. and Mrs. Jesus Llamas of Trabaja street, San Clemente, raced with the stork yesterday morning—and the stork won. Their little daughter was born in their car while they were on North Main street, speeding toward the county hospital.

The event was reported today by Matt Lujan of Delhi, who said the baby and her mother seem to have come through their unusual experience in good shape.

22 COUNTY MEN ARE IN WHO'S WHO

Twenty-two persons in Orange county have the distinction of listing in "Who's Who in America" for 1936-37, it was disclosed today when the new volume arrived at the county library.

Inclusion in the book is granted only to national and state officials and persons who have attained distinction in their fields of endeavor.

Congressman Sam Collins is listed both in Fullerton and in Santa Ana, giving the former five men and the latter seven men listed. Anaheim, Dana Point, and Garden Grove each have one person listed. Laguna Beach has five; La Habra, three.

Following are those listed: The Rev. Mr. Ray C. Harker, Anaheim; the Rev. Mr. Theodore G. Soares, Dana Point; Peter M. Magnusson, Garden Grove, psychologist.

From La Habra were listed the Rev. Mr. Lyman M. Denton, J. Breckenridge Ellis, writer; and Kirby Fage, editor and author. Santa Anans included Congressman Collins; A. J. Cruickshank, banker; Homer M. Derr, geologist; Col. S. H. Finley, engineer; David J. Howell, attorney; Arthur J. McCadden, fruit grower, and Gerhardus Vos, theologian.

Fullerton's listings were Charles C. Chapman, orange grower; Congressman Collins; the Rev. Mr. Graham C. Hunter; W. Kee Maxwell, editor; and Oscar H. Reinhold, mining man.

PARKING TICKET NAME MIXED

Mrs. D. E. Winterbourne, 811 Towner street, won't have any trouble with police because of overparking. She has received no citations from police and is not on the department's "honor roll" of multiple violators, she said today, although there was a "Mrs. D. Winterbourne" listed.

Mrs. Daisy Winterbourne of Tustin, however, is listed on the police sheet as having received two citations and failing to appear.

Deputy District Attorney Preston Turner's car may have been overparked, but he wasn't driving it, he explained today. His son, however, has been left citations, police said today, while he was driving the elder Turner's car.

SHOP TEACHER IS MARRIED

Robert Calhoun, shop teacher at San Juan Capistrano High school, was married Saturday evening to Miss Charlotte Hoak of Westwood at the Little Country church in Hollywood, friends in the mission town learned today.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, A. H. Hoak, Westwood. Florence Daugherty, Westwood, was bridesmaid, and Elmer Means, U. C. L. A., was best man. The Rev. Wallace Pearson, Santa Monica, read the marriage lines.

Following the rites, about 100 guests were entertained at the Hoak home. The couple plan to live in San Juan Capistrano.

certain failure, authorities agreed. Both growers and workers have agreed to abide by the wage decision of the arbitration board, when one is selected. Workers are being paid at the rate of 25 cents per hour, but have demanded 30 cents. Should the arbitration board award a higher wage rate, it will be retroactive to Sept. 5, according to the agreement reached at that time postponing a strike.

Strathman Assisting
S. Muraoko, representing the Japanese growers, said today that Stuart Strathman, to whom Mexicans objected as growers' representative on the arbitration board, has been assisting growers unofficially so far.

Another man, whose name was not disclosed, will be proposed as growers' representative, however, Muraoko said. Lucas Lucio, representing the workers, could not be reached today.

If consideration of Strathman is eliminated, an accord can be reached, according to Mexican workers.

Tentative arrangements call for each faction to name a representative on the board, with Deputy Labor Commissioner Barker as the third and balancing member.

FOOD GONE! STOP, THIEF!

Oh! Beg Pardon! It's Home

To J. W. Taylor, 418 West Santa Clara street, goes today's leather medal for something or other, awarded by the police department.

Taylor called the police station Saturday afternoon, saying groceries worth $15.4 had been stolen from his car, parked in front of a local market.

Officers questioned market employees, newboys, and passersby. No one had seen the thief take the groceries. Things were practically at a standstill.

Forty minutes later Taylor, in an apologetic tone of voice, called the police station.

"I just remembered," he said, "that I took those groceries home and left them before I went down town for some more."

NAZIS CONVICT LIQUOR MIXUP U.S. SEAMAN STARTS FIGHT

BERLIN—Lawrence Simpson, American seaman, was convicted of sedition by the peoples' court today and sentenced to three years in prison—minus the 14 months he already has served.

Simpson, a sailor on the S. S. Manhattan, was convicted in a swift one-day trial, during which he admitted without reservation that he and three German Communist friends had tried to set up a popular front government in Nazi Germany with three small balloons and packages of anti-Nazi propaganda.

Simpson, whose home is in Seattle, Wash., said the venture failed, because one of the four turned out to be a police spy.

Simpson was tried, after more than a year of incarceration in German prison camps, on charges of espionage and dissemination of Communist literature.

S. A. Boy Bags 180 Pound Deer

A 180-pound mule-tail deer, shot by their 17-year-old son Donald, was brought to Santa Ana by Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Smith and family, 915 Kilson drive, upon their return Friday from a six-week vacation into northern California.

It was the second deer ever killed by the Santa Ana High school student, and was bagged in the Mendocino country, 40 miles from Mt. Shasta.

The deer is considered slightly better than average size for the northern area, but would be an exceptional catch in the local district, where the animals run 100 to 125 pounds.

Asks $10,500 for Crash Injuries

Damages amounting to $10,500 are asked by Earl Crawford in his suit against Sam L. Terry, Huntington Beach, which he started today in superior court.

Crawford claims he received several broken ribs and severe cuts and bruises when his car collided with that driven by Terry, Sept. 1, at the intersection of Clay and Main streets, in Huntington Beach. His attorney is Leonard S. Barnes.

crowded. An unestimated number were injured.

Only a shift or diminution in daily winds or a rain could save at least three towns and thousands of acres of timber land, authorities said. More than 3000 men were on the fire lines.

The United States forest service said it had been informed the flames had covered approximately one-third of Myrtle Point.

Only Open Road
Myrtle Point remains the only road open from the Curry and Coos county fire areas into the inland sections of Oregon.

Across the line in Northern California thousands of acres lay blackened by fire. Near Redding two small communities of less than a half hundred inhabitants each were threatened by the flames. Cherokee, an old mining settlement also was endangered, and authorities said the situation in Butte and Yuba counties was especially dangerous because of numerous stores of dynamite for use in the mines.

California authorities estimated 200,000 acres had been swept by fires in that state in the past two days.

Burns In a Night
The Oregon holocaust broke loose northeast of Bandon late Saturday. By Sunday morning, that town of 1500 on the banks of the Coquille river was reduced to ashes. Only a few homes, a tourist camp and parts of downtown buildings were standing. Prosper, across the river, shared the same fate.

Other fires, nourished in tinder-dry underbrush and fanned by a swirling breeze, sprang up along more than 200 miles of coastline.

Hiding under the innocent title of "Retail Store License," Proposition 22 on the November ballot is really a new scheme for taxing the public.

Proposing to tax individual stores $1 a year and chain stores $50.00 for each store they own, it has been petitioned against by 126,000 Californians because...

It Would Raise Prices
The U. S. Federal Trade Commission says: "If the ability to deliver or on elimination of credit taxation, it is the consuming public which will really pay the tax and not the chain store."

It Would Be Unfair
Not a tax for revenue, but based on the ability to pay—it is an attempt to use the taxing power to destroy competition.

Small chain stores would be taxed up to 500,000 times as much as big department stores.

It Would Hurt California
Chain stores now benefit California consumers, farmers, employees and investors. To cripple them is to hurt all California business.

22 IS A TAX ON YOU —VOTE NO!

J.F. CRAEMER
NOW G.O.P.
CHIEFOrange Publisher Named
At Party Convention,
In Sacramento

Justus F. Craemer of Orange will head the Republican state central committee during the campaign leading up to the November election.

The Orange county publisher and deputy state director of public works was unanimously chosen for the position Saturday, after Edward S. Shattuck, Los Angeles attorney and president of the Republican state assembly had withdrawn in interest of party harmony.

The election of Craemer had been freely predicted by political leaders during the past week. He succeeds Earl Warren, now Republican national committeeman, as state chairman.

"We stand, indeed, again at Armageddon," the new chairman said in addressing the new committee following his induction into office. "Let us," he added, "go forth to the righteous battle. Let us go forth in the sure knowledge that the great common sense and reasoning of the American people will rescue America."

Craemer hit hard at what he termed "Farleyism" and "the wanton waste of the Roosevelt administration," as he called on the voters of California to "do their own thinking" in the forthcoming campaign.

POLICE REPORTS

Burglary of $20 worth of clothes a week ago was reported by Sunday Hernandez, 2551 Evergreen street. Officers were unable to find fingerprints.

A bicycle owned by Aubrey Burg, 507 1/2 Minter street, reported stolen from Third and Bush streets, was found at Second and Bush streets and returned.

A boy's red and green wagon was reported missing from the home of F. L. Carrier, 901 South Birch street.

Mrs. Mabel Bohannon, 719 West Second street, who asked a search yesterday for her brother, George W. McCushton, 49, called today to say she had located him in Newport.

Fearing somebody might be scalped, John Shockley, 408 East Fourth street, yesterday called the police station, saying there were four drunk Indians on East Fourth street. The strangers turned out not to be drunk and weren't even Indians, but, as the officers' report read, "They were just in from the bean threshers and looked kind of raggedy."

A prowler who "looked in the window and went away" was reported Saturday night at the A. I. confirming sale of real estate.

Townsend
News, Views
By WALTER R. ROBB

(This is a non-political, non-partisan column, dealing in Townsend news and views, and written by a prominent Townsend leader. Any opinions which are expressed herein are not necessarily those of The Journal.)

Some say that 1,000 attended the Townsend mass meeting Saturday night in the new Santa Ana High school auditorium. At any rate, it was a good sized gathering that heard Walter R. Robb send movement, called the meeting to order and presented Mrs. Gladys Greer, of Los Angeles, who led the community singing, accompanied by Mrs. A. F. Erick, of Santa Ana.

The audience heartily sang songs of a campaign nature, popular just now in Townsend gatherings. One of these is built around the incident in the Townsend investigation committee, when Dr. Townsend walked out on the committee. The words of the chorus of this song went up with the comment: "He got up and left them; which was just the thing to do." The spirit of sentiment in the words of this song seems to fit in with the way the Townsendites feel about the actions of this committee. It has been a number of months now since the committee has actively functioned but the resentment among Townsendites toward the members of the committee does not lessen, as was well demonstrated last evening.

Mr. Margett and Harry Sheppard came to the platform amidst great applause. Accompanying Meilenthin home, 2340 North Park boulevard.

Men soliciting photographic work were reported by Mrs. B. W. Veale, 1107 Highland street. Officers questioned F. M. Cotterman and H. C. Thompson, Los Angeles photographers, who promised to get business licenses before soliciting more work.

H. D. Mohler, 1608 West Second street, became suspicious Saturday night when a car drove around the block several times. He got into his car, took the stranger's license number, and followed the car to Orange. Then he turned the number over to police for checking.

Saturday's city court traffic fines: Speeding—Claude F. Horan, $8; Cluster Tail, $8; Zara C. Sharpe, $6; Hugo Kinner, $6; Philip Schoeller, $6; Cloyd A. Duncan, Jr., $25; Maurice Roland Kraemer, $6; James M. Borges, $8. Parking—Gladys Little, $1.

SCENIC ROAD
PLAN TO BE DISCUSSED

Discussion of possibility of a scenic drive over Saddleback mountain will feature a meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange county tomorrow evening in the Orange Woman's clubhouse, Dr. C. G. Huston, Costa Mesa, the president, announced today.

Wishing to bring discussion of the proposed sky-line drive before the people of the county, the Associated chambers committee, headed by George Kellogg, Yorba Linda, has arranged a number of talks on the new road, it was announced. President Huston pointed out that the county group is not sponsoring the new highway, but is merely bringing the matter before the membership for discussion.

The proposed road would start from the Santa Ana canyon highway, would traverse Saddleback and end on Ortega highway, somewhere between San Juan Capistrano and Lake Elsinore, according to proposed plans.

A report from the water committee, headed by Judge Donald J. Dodge, Costa Mesa, is also expected at the meeting.

There were other Townsend accepted candidates as follows: Steele Finley, Santa Ana, and Harry D. Riley, of Anaheim, both candidates for the office of supervisor from Orange county's first and third districts respectively; and Harry Westover, Democratic nominee for the state senate. Others on the platform were the Rev. S. L. Wing, Dr. Townsend campaign aid for Sheppard in San Bernardino county, and Paul J. Lichenfels, Southern California area manager, who was shortly introduced as the master of the evening's program by Mr. Walsh. The Rev. W. F. Russell pronounced the invocation.

Mr. Sheppard began his address by thanking the Townsend groups for their support in the primaries and asked for still greater support in the November election. He stressed the hopeful and favorable aspects which seemed to portend his election but at the same time warned that much effort should be expended in his behalf if the Townsendites wanted him to go to congress.

The dynamic Edward J. Margett, chief speaker of the evening, was then introduced by Mr. Lichenfels as the man who does things for the Townsend movement. The speaker began his address with a description of the new Townsend bill which would be introduced in the coming congress and gave the rise to those who were stating the 2 per cent transaction method of raising to create the revolving fund with which to pay pensions had been abandoned. He said the bill would still include the $200 per month provision payable to all

BRIGGS OF
L. A. DIES

WASHINGTON (AP)—A brief illness of pneumonia ended the life of Henry B. Briggs, 55, Los Angeles postmaster.

Briggs, a former newspaper publisher, died last night. He had been ill little more than four days, 72 hours of which he was under an oxygen tent.

Previous to his appointment as postmaster of Los Angeles in 1934, Briggs was active in newspaper work. Born in Kalamazoo, Mich., he started work on the Kalamazoo Gazette after his return from Spanish-American war service. Later he worked on the Saginaw, Mich., News, the Kalamazoo Mich., Telegraph, the Detroit, Tribune, the Detroit News, the Cleveland News and the New York Journal.

After serving as an European correspondent he became editor of the St. Paul Daily News in 1911, later holding a similar post with the Denver Express and the Cleveland Press. He came to Los Angeles in 1925 as editor and publisher of the Los Angeles Record.

Briggs was in Washington to confer with postal authorities. En route here he attended the postmasters' convention in Cleveland where he was reappointed editor of the Post masters' Gazette.

worthy citizens having attained an age of 60 years.

He ridiculed the Townsend investigating congressional committee by calling it the smearing committee. Vigorously he charged that members of that committee who offered no resistance to the tirades and insulting manner accorded witnesses appearing before its sessions as being equally guilty and equally responsible for its damaging effects to the Townsend movement. He admitted the committee's methods and efforts had slowed up the Townsend movement but in the same breath said not for long.

By way of explanation of this statement he said that in the Chicago Townsend convention a year ago, there were 7,000 delegates from over the states and about one-half dozen newspapermen present. That at that time there were 4,500 Townsend clubs in the nation.

Then in contrast to what then existed he pointed out that in the recent Cleveland Townsend convention there were 15,000 delegates and a report of 9,000 Townsend clubs in America. Instead of a half dozen newspapermen as in the previous convention, there were scores of them in the convention hall and all the noted correspondents of the nation in addition. He concluded this phase of his address with the statement: "You might have grown faster without the smearing committee, but you have never ceased to grow."

YELLOWFIN TUNA RUN
JONES LAUDS NORTON
SHORT SPORT SHORTS

The yellowfin tuna run has started.

From waters just east of Catalina Island a Santa Ana party of five hooked 19 of the prized fish, and returned with the report the tuna will be running to fishermen's delight for at least three weeks.

Those on the profitable trip were Ernest Webb, Walt Meyer, Henry McKague and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Barnett, who went to sea in Earl Coleman's Elmo.

Miles Norton, all-Eastern conference gridded with the Dons, came through with flying colors at right tackle in his first game for the Trojans.

Said Howard Jones following U. S. C.'s smashing 38-7 triumph over Oregon State Saturday: "I'm going to stick to the same system—two teams. I don't intend to shuffle them to any great degree. I thought the fellow who was really on the spot more than anybody else was this boy Norton, and he showed up very well. That's fine."

Alvin Reboin, ex-Dons tutor, is coaching the backfield and Harry (Cap) Sheue, the linemen at Huntington Beach High school. The Oilers receive their first major test against Brea-Olinda's 1935 champions in a non-league argument at Huntington Beach Friday afternoon.

Roller-skate hockey, the city's newest sport, will be seen here Thursday night again. The Tier-nan-sponsored quintet matches skill with Fullerton at the Santa Ana rink on West Fourth street. Long Beach comes here a week from Thursday.

The fast game is played with a three-inch leather puck and the regulation field hockey stick.

Who was the Santa Ana fan who thought he had $5 and $10 won in a football pool on the S. C.-Oregon State game, yet failed to win a single cent? He had a combination of 8 and 0, and would have won $5 at the close of the third quarter if the score had remained 16-0. But the Trojans scored again, 25-0. He had another winning combination of 38-0 in sight with three minutes of play remaining. Oregon State broke it up by completing a long touchdown pass and converting. You can't win!

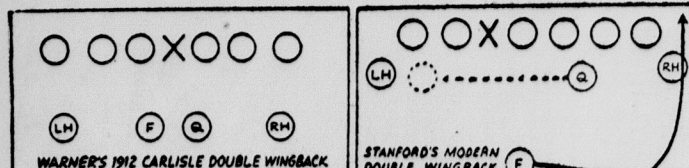

Short sport shorts: Twins, Bill and Dave Query, coached the rival Shelby and Willard prep elevens of Ohio which fought to a 13-13 tie in their opener. . . The Dons can be thankful they were ignored on the S. C. Freshman's grid schedule. The Trojans crushed Riverside Jaycees, 47-0, Saturday. . . Henry Thiery, Huntington Beach's second baseman, is leading the Oilers in hitting with a .500 rating after two games in the Southern California nightball playoff with San Bernardino.

WINGBACKS

(Sixth in a series of 12 daily articles prepared by the coach of Stanford's Rose Bowl champions in collaboration with Russ Newland, Associated Press sports writer.)

The double wingback, which is an integral part of the type of football attack used by Stanford was a natural and logical development of the single wingback formation.

At the Carlisle Indian school in the early part of this century, Glenn Schober Warner evolved the "Carlisle tandem." In this radical departure from the standardized T formation, wherein three of the backs stood bunched behind the quarterback, the backfield quartet swung inward tandem fashion from a point behind the right end.

The unbalanced line was contemporary. The backfield formation was the forerunner of the single wingback.

In 1912, while still at Carlisle, Warner produced the "double wingback" operating behind a balanced line. He moved the ends out a yard and stationed the halfbacks behind them—wings of the back line. The fullback and quarterback remained in the middle, one slightly to the left and the other to the right of center, and on a line with the halfbacks.

The present double wingback formation so widely used on the nation's gridirons is the outgrowth of that football experiment of more than 20 years ago.

From the double wingback with unbalanced line it is possible to run a play either to the short or long side with no material loss of attacking power. The advantage is the defense cannot overshift you. The double wing spreads out the defense more. The quarterback ranges from tackle to tackle.

Dons Entertain Long Beach Friday Night

SAINTS DRILL WITH GROVE TOMORROW

Preps Scrimmage Junior College and Argonaut Elevens This Week

Long Beach's Vikings of the Western Junior college conference, who have crossed Santa Ana's goal line only once since 1928, will furnish the non-league opposition for the Bill Cook-Blanchard Beatty Dons in football here Friday night.

Santa Ana High school's varsity does not play again until a Cret league opener with the Hilliers at San Diego a week from Saturday afternoon, but Coaches Bill Foote and Reece Greene have arranged a busy practice schedule. The Saints—mainly the second and third stringers—will scrimmage John Ward's Garden Grove eleven on Poly field at 3 p. m. tomorrow. They will drill with the junior college at the Bowl Wednesday or Thursday.

Long Beach lost a 6-2 decision to Bakersfield Jaycees while Santa Ana was impressively conquering Glendale, 13-0, last week. With Johnny Takahashi, ex-Long Beach Poly star, leading the attack, the Vikings drove from their own 25 to Bakersfield's 3-yard line in the second quarter, but a fumble was recovered by the northerners. Their punt was blocked and Long Beach caught them back of the line for a safety.

Bakersfield flashed more power, gaining 202 yards to Long Beach's 77 from scrimmage. Santa Ana outgained Glendale, 224 to 50, and 9 first downs to 1, at the Municipal bowl.

Aside from Halfback Stanley's charley horse, the Dons appeared in good shape today.

Coaches Cook and Beatty plan to concentrate on blocking this week. They are well pleased with the progress of Santa Ana's formidable forwards, but have not liked the way the halfbacks have been going after the secondary.

Cook looked on while the U. S. C. freshmen crushed Riverside Jaycees' 1935 champions, 47 to 0, at the Coliseum Saturday. Jesse Mortensen's Bengals appeared unconditioned, and particularly ragged on defense. The game was considered no true measuring of Riverside's ability.

GRID STARS

By the Associated Press
ED GODDARD, Washington State—Scored first touchdown and held rivals back while punting to beat Montana, 10-0.

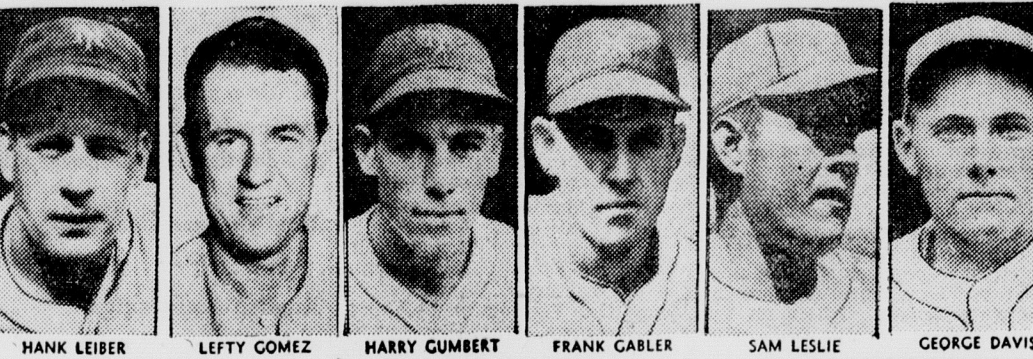

RAY ANTILA, Minnesota—Recovered fumbled punt on 30-yard line, leading to score that beat Washington 14-7.

ELMORE HACKNEY, Duke—His running and passing featured 6-0 win over Colgate.

LOWELL SPURGEON, Illinois—Kicked 27-yard field goal with wet ball to beat De Paul, 9-6.

San Bernardino tomorrow night. . . More than 45 million tickets were sold for high school and college football games last fall. . . Jack Dempsey is taking up golf, and his tutor is none other than Babe Ruth.

Hubbell, the Giants' Slab Soloist, Tops Yankees' Ace Pitching Pair

(This is a series of four daily stories about the World Series outlook.)

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK. (AP)—Harold McGrath, a Britisher, probably knows nothing about baseball, but he once authored a book called "The Man on the Box"—and that fellow turned out to be quite a hero!

Some time soon there will be several fellows on two boxes whose slight rises in the terrain of the Polo grounds and Yankee stadium—and the copy that is certain to be written about them will be sufficient to fill several novels—"Anthony Adverse" and "Gone With the Wind" included.

These are the World Series pitching selections, and once again the downtown horse-hoed seers are toying with the question: "Can smart pitching stymie Yankee power?"

Ordinarily, yes; but such are the vagaries of baseball that anything is possible in a short series. The power hitters on one side are likely to be stopped cold by opponents who are supposedly weaker at the plate, and then again they may make life miserable for any pitcher who takes the mound.

With Carl Hubbell starting, it is generally conceded that the Giants will have more in the field Wednesday than the Yankees or anybody else, and barring an unanticipated lapse in form, or a flock of early unearned runs, King Carl figures to win the opener.

Hubbell Tight-Fisted

The willowy screw-baller is stingier with runs than a baseball

magnate with World Series Annie Oakley's. In 300 innings of mound duty, including 25 complete games, he has yielded fewer than 80 runs, earned and otherwise. Another point strongly in his favor is his perfect control. Fewer than 60 walks have been issued by the left hander, half of which were enforced by dugout strategy.

In answer to the Hubbell threat, the Yankees have two excellent moundmen in Monte Pearson, now enjoying his best season, and Charlie Ruffing, a 20-game winner whose consistency all season has given McCarthy a tremendous edge over American league foes.

All of these three are strikeout artists, but neither Pearson nor Ruffing has the remarkable control that is Hubbell's forte. The records show that they will walk three men to Hub's one, and in a three series a momentary lapse can do an irreparable amount of damage.

After Hubbell—what then? That's the question that is causing Skipper Bill Terry exorcising anxiety. For, sad to relate, the rest of the staff has let down perceptibly after its great August drive. American league managers believe Fitzsimmons' knuckle ball, a downer which is usually hit into the earth, is unlike anything offered in the American league, and for this reason they concede him a chance to baffle the Yankee hitters.

Even Terry doesn't know who will pitch after Hub and Fitz are out of the way. The collapse of Schumacher has been a bitter disappointment. Al Smith's erratic

HUBBELL OPPOSES GOMEZ Southpaws to Open Series

(This is another of a series of stories on World Series prospects.)

By ALAN GOULD

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK.—To the lustre of such memorable southpaw World Series duels as those waged in bygone days between Eddie Plank and Ruth, Babe Ruth and Jim Vaughn, may be added the portrait of the great Carl Hubbell in a match with Lefty Gomez at the outset of New York's "subway series" Wednesday.

There is no GUS MANCUSO doubt the Giants will send their famous left-hander to the first firing line. The National league champions figure to stand or fall upon the performance of the "pitcher of the year." Hubbell's presence on the mound in the opening game makes the Giants betting favorites, at least for the day.

The possibility of Gomez getting the No. 1 assignment for the Yankees, in preference to the right-handed Charley (Red) Ruffing, seems indicated by a number of factors. Gomez, like Hubbell, has been most effective in the inter-league all-star games. The slim southpaw has had an erratic year, but showed a sensational speedball recovery in his last two performances.

Gomez's Best Chance
Yankee followers believe Gomez, if he is right, has the best chance of any pitcher to outpoint Hubbell in a close game, where a "break" might prove the deciding factor.

The latest pitching developments seem to favor the chances of the Giants to overcome the heavier hitting threat of their Bronx rivals.

Hal Schumacher's return to form after a mediocre season, rounds out a three man strating staff that will carry the burden for the National leaguers. The third member is Freddy Fitzsimmons who has more consistently aided Hubbell than any other member of the Giants' staff in the campaign's closing weeks.

Hubbell's screwball, Fitzsimmons' knuckler and Schumacher's sinker combine to furnish a type of pitching with which the Yankees have had little encounter this season. They may prove especially baffling to the younger batsmen in the Yankee lineup. More-over, all three are masters at fielding their positions, a factor that looms vitally in the Giants' defensive scheme.

Unless Gomez comes through, the Yankees may have to keep their bullpen busy throughout the series. Ruffing rates the No. 1 or 2 starting role but Joe McCarthy's most consistent right handed winner outside of Ruffing, Monte Pearson, has a sore back.

Smith Next to Hubbell
Of the other Yankee prospects, Fordham Johnny Murphy and the veteran Pat Malone, who had World Series experience with the Chicago Cubs, may be the best bets. Both have registered come-backs. Respected Johnny Brock, the Yale graduate, and Irving (Bump) Hadley, who ran up a big early winning streak to every body's surprise, are unlikely to get starting calls.

Left handed Al Smith has won more than any other member of the Giant staff, aside from Hubbell, but his form this month has relegated him to a subordinate spot in series calculations. Headed by the Giants, will be Dick Coffman, Frank Gabler, Harry Cumbert and Clyde Castleman also will be on call.

Hubbell is certain to start the first and fourth games, as he did three years ago against the Senators. He may also be thrown into action as a relief man. His chance to become a three-game winner, however, probably depends on the series going seven games.

On the receiving end of the series pitching are two of the best workmen in the majors. Yankee Bill Dickey, with a .360 batting mark, has a big slugging edge over his Giant rival, Gus Mancuso, but Gus has a more impressive defensive record. Mancuso, heavy of foot, is less brittle than Dickey, and more resourceful than colorful.

tendencies and the failure of Castleman to approximate his 35 Corn Bessers, co-favorites for the Pacific Coast conference crown with Washington, open against St. Mary's Gaels in the high spot game. Stanford, beaten by Santa Clara, 13-0, begins conference competition against Washington State, while Southern California's Trojans, whose 38-7 rout of Oregon State indicated the men of Troy were on their way back toward the top, plays Oregon in Los Angeles. Washington, whose Huskies gave Minnesota a brilliant fight, eases off against Idaho. U. C. L. A. plays Montana Friday night.

East: Yale vs. Cornell
New Haven's "hot spot." Yale opens its suicide schedule against Cornell's sensational sophomores who sent Carl Snively's coaching regime off to a flying start with a 74-0 rout of Alfred, scoring 15 more points in one game than the Big Red could amass all last season. Yale, well supplied with veteran players, should nuke whatever weakness there is in the Ithaca ensemble.

Otherwise, intersectional games will furnish most of the fun, starting off with a pair of Friday night games in which Rice and Mississippi will tackle Duquesne and Temple.

The intersectional angle will carry over into Saturday. Navy, hard-pressed to turn back William and Mary, 18-6, meets another Southern conference foe, Davidson, which handed North Carolina State an unpleasant surprise, 6-2. Army, hoping for a banner season, opens against Washington and Lee. Villanova's Wildcats, who celebrated Maurice (Clipper) Smith's coaching debut with a 32-7 triumph over Penn Military, will meet Detroit.

Pitt, looking just as powerful as expected in a 53-0 triumph over Ohio Wesleyan, will face West Virginia's Mountaineers who surprised critics by their 40-6 victory over the University of Cincinnati. Fordham and Princeton, linked with Pitt as most likely contenders for Eastern sectional honors, open against strong small college foes. The Tigers, held by Franklin and Marshall, Penn. last year's biggest Eastern disappointment, will open against Ernie Nevers' Lafayette array, surprisingly bowled over by Muhlenberg. Harvard's seasonal victors will take the Crimson against Amherst.

Northwestern vs. Iowa
Midwest: Here the intersectional angle is pre-eminent. Highly touted Notre Dame and Ohio State open against Carnegie Tech and New York University, respectively, while Chicago's Bears, less Mac's mackie, Vanderbilt's Commodores. Bo McMillin's Indiana Hoosiers open against Centre, which lost, 50-7, to Temple.

Northwestern's Wildcats, "dark horse" of the Big Ten race, open with a conference test against led by the negro flash, Oze Simmons. Michigan will attempt to halt Michigan State. Harry Stuhldreher's first Wisconsin varsity, which averaged one 1935 defeat by turning back South Dakota State last week, will attempt to gain revenge for another, by Marquette. Illinois, which beat De Paul, 9-6, on a 27-yard field goal by Lowell Spurgeon, will meet Washington University.

In Big Six competition Nebraska's defending titleholders face Iowa State as Oklahoma, held to a scoreless draw by Tulsa, takes the field against the University of Colorado of the Rocky Mountain conference. Kansas State, Kansas and Missouri also play outside opposition.

South: Tulane, surprise victor over Mississippi, 7-6, tests a powerful Auburn eleven in one Southeastern conference game while Georgia Tech meets Sewanee in another. Topping the Dixie card, however, is the inter-conference game between North Carolina and Tennessee, Southern and Southeastern Conference bearers. Both had trouble last week, North Carolina topping Wake Forest by only 14-7, and Tennessee beating Chattanooga, 13-0. Other inter-conference duels send Kentucky against Virginia Military whose Sophomores

WILD BILL BOYD TO FIGHT HERE

An opponent for Sailor (Wild Bill) Boyd for Thursday night's main event was being sought today by Promoter Bob Singleton of the Orange County Athletic club. Lupe LeMon of Fullerton was offered the bout, but was forced to refuse because of a back injury.

Sailor Covington, who holds a kayo over George Hughes, will battle Ben Shell, mid-western negro, and Art Arroya of Westminster will box Sailor, Holland in two fights already secured for the customary eight-bout program.

S. C.-OREGON TILT HOLDS SPOTLIGHT

Minnesota's Win Streak Totals 25; Trojans to Clash in L. A. Again

By HERBERT W. BARKER

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK.—Off to a fast start, the 1936 football season moves quickly into full stride this week, promising an unprecedented series of thrills before the campaign is over.

Given a preliminary taste of "major league" competition Saturday, as Minnesota's Gophers galloped over Washington, 14 to 7, to carry on an undefeated streak that has continued through 25 successive games in more than three years, and Duke and Louisiana State hung up intersectional victories for the South against Colgate and Rice, respectively, your football fan will be able to find all-star fare all along the line this week-end.

Briefly, here is the lineup as virtually every major team in the country swings into action:

Far West: California's Golden Bears, co-favorites for the Pacific Coast conference crown with Washington, open against St. Mary's Gaels in the high spot game. Stanford, beaten by Santa Clara, 13-0, begins conference competition against Washington State, while Southern California's Trojans, whose 38-7 rout of Oregon State indicated the men of Troy were on their way back toward the top, plays Oregon in Los Angeles. ### Oilers Will Play San Bernardino At Home Thursday

Huntington Beach and San Bernardino nines will play the fourth game of the Southern California nightball playoff at Huntington Beach Thursday instead of Friday night, Manager Joe Rodgers of the 1935 champion Oilers announced today.

Rodgers made the change for two reasons: (1) To avoid conflict with the Santa Ana-Long Beach J. C. football game here Friday to give local fans a chance to see his Oilers; and (2) in order that his club might play all-star collection at San Pedro Friday night.

Joe Goss, sports editor of the San Pedro News-Pilot, is behind a movement to obtain a franchise in the National league next year. Several National league representatives are expected to watch San Pedro against the champions.

Huntington Beach, winner of two straight, plays the third game of the southland series at San Bernardino tomorrow night.

YANKEES SET RUN RECORD

By the Associated Press
The 1936 major league pennant chase passed into history today, after taking one last crack at the record books and leaving behind the unusual angle of a first division tie in both leagues.

The pennant-winning Yankees and Giants each lost their last engagement as the campaign closed yesterday, but it made no difference. The Yankees, who won the Senators took the Yankees 10-5, but didn't stop Murderers' Row from breaking the major league runs batted in record with a total of 993, nor keep the champions from finishing with a 19½ game lead, the largest in American league history.

Cubs, Cards Tie

The Giants took an 8-3 trouncing from the Brooklyn Dodgers featured largely by the three-inning wallop handed to Freddy Fitzsimmons, rated as the second most dependable pitcher on the short handed World Series staff for the National league titlists.

The Cubs had just enough left to finish in a tie for second place with the Cardinals in the National league as they bested Dizzy Dean 6-3 behind Lou Warneke's tight hurling. The two clubs will split second and third money.

In the American league the deadlock was in third place between the Chicago White Sox and Washington Senators. The Sox, routed out with the Browns yesterday, finished with 81 wins and 70 losses; the Senators, by taking the Yanks, wound up with 82 victories and 71 setbacks. On the percentage basis, the Sox just shaded the Nats 5364 to 5359.

Reds Nip Pirates

Bob Feller stopped the Tigers with three hits to give the Indians a 4-1 win in a game ended by rain in six innings, but the ex-titlist holders wound up second in the American league nevertheless. The Pirates, finishing fourth in the National league, dropped their finale to the Reds 6-5, as Dee Moore, Cincinnati's "one-man team," took a crack at pitching, catching and slugging in the one game.

Jimmy Foxx belted homers numbers 40 and 41, but the Red Sox were unable to get better than a split in their twin bill with the Athletics, dropping the opener 8-4 and taking the nightcap 5-4.

The Phillies and Bees also divided their double bill, Boston winning the first game 7-3, and Philadelphia pulling out the nightcap 4-3.

Yesterday's Stars

By the Associated Press
BOB FELLER, Indians—Held Tigers to three hits.
DEE MOORE, Reds—Hit two doubles, driving in one run, pitched two innings and caught seven in win over Pirates.

FRANK DEMAREE and STAN HACK, Cubs—Each drove in two runs in defeating Cardinals.
JOHNNY STONE, Senators—Hit two triples, three singles, driving in three runs in win over Yankees.

trounced South Carolina 24-7, and Alabama against Clemson.

Within the Southern Conference Duke, which outplayed Colgate by a wide margin, meets South Carolina, North Carolina State tackles Wake Forest; Virginia Poly, upset by Clemson, 20-0, meets Maryland and Virginia faces William and Mary.

Trojans vs. Oregon
Southwest: Texas Christian, beaten by Texas Tech, 7-0, starts its bid for the conference title against Arkansas. Texas draws Louisiana State's Tigers, who spilled Rice, 20-7, last week. Southern Methodist, barely able to top North Texas Teachers, 6-0, plays Texas Arts and Industries.

ROEBUCK AND HANSON VIE TONIGHT

Main Event Will Hinge On Elbow Smash and Hangman Maneuvers

The man who has consistently cracked attendance records at the Orange County Athletic club—Vincent Lopez—former world heavyweight wrestling champion, and Howard (Hangman) Cantonwine, the fellow who has consistently cracked opponents at the same arena, will have it out tonight.

Principals in the three-fall main event of a well-balanced four-event card, Lopez pits his celebrated "elbow smash" against the spectacular mat maneuver invented by Cantonwine, and known as the "hangman hold."

Title Bout Wednesday
Both weigh approximately 225 pounds, stand over six feet and are the powerhouse performers of the heavyweight division.

The match will make or break Lopez, in that he has a world title bout scheduled Wednesday and a defeat would mean his finish—the well known "gate" in favor of the rough and tumble gent from Iowa.

A crowd of approximately 1000 Mexican followers figure to be on hand to root for Lopez, biggest Mexican drawing card wrestling has ever known. A crowd of 2000 may see the fireworks.

Hanson vs. Roebuck

Either Dick Rutherford or Don McDonald will referee. The supporting card brings out the main event, Bill Hanson, who lost a thrilling match to Cantonwine last week, wrestling the Haskell Indian giant, Tiny Roebuck, in the secondary feature. Steve Strelch, popular 180-pound junior heavyweight title claimant, faces Baron Ginsberg.

The opening spot shows Bob Coleman, mat-burning little 160-pounder, wrestling Jerry Work. The first bout is billed for 8:30, with 1000 gallery tickets going on sale an hour in advance.

Don Budge Double Victor Over Fred Perry of England

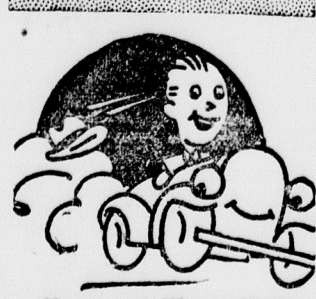

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—California's gift to American tennis, the upped Don Budge, moved on to a San Francisco tournament today, carrying a double victory over Fred Perry, England's world champion.

Battering through the Briton's off-form game in the Pacific Southwest Singles final, Budge also teamed with Gene Makio to trounce the Indians and Francis X. Shields of Hollywood in the doubles.

The Red Comet, from Oakland, beaten by Perry this year for the Wimbledon and United States titles, whizzed through him in four sets, 6-2, 4-6, 6-2, 6-3. At the tag end of the season Perry failed to flash his usual brilliance.

Here and There With The Journal's
Rambling County Editor

By T. N. (BRICK) GAINES

THIS oil drilling business is getting touchy! I don't dare have any opinions on it myself, but I'm getting plenty from others! If this keeps up, I'm going to ask Editor Jim Farquhar, down at Huntington Beach, for some fatherly advice. Or maybe Governor Moriam.

Take an incident the other day, for instance. This department was wandering down a street in Newport, with a shell pink car delicately attuned to happenings of the day, when a gruff voice says, "Hey, you!"

I looked around, and there was a Well Known Citizen.

So I stopped and AWK remarked, "What's all this I've been hearing about Slant Oil drilling? What do yuh think about it?"

Whereupon I stammered and stuttered, and he proceeded to tell me all about it.

The proposed law, as written, would allow drilling for oil on any portion of our beaches not washed by the waves of the ocean, he claimed. Offered me a lengthy copy of the legislation to prove his point. After being convinced that I couldn't read, he went on with his explanation. Proposition No. 4, he contended, prohibits drilling only on tideslides, and says nothing about the hundreds of yards of beaches along our coast. "Tch, tch!"

And then one of the bigger of the beach preservers from Los Angeles, touring the coastline with a gang of eastern folk, said the same thing. He hinted at deep plots and dastardly work, and Ethiopians in the stovehood.

I dunno. I'm just a poor country boy, and don't own any beach land, anyway!

In order to keep our Feathered Friends department alive, I'm swapping something from H. O. Poort's Town Crier at Laguna. About a cat and a mouse which outwitted the cat.

Seems that the cat, of the alley variety, strolled into one of Laguna's drugstores the other evening, carrying a struggling mouse. The ferocious feline displayed all the nice little tricks cats have with captured mice. You know, let 'em get away, almost, and then pounce!

Well, the mouse got a pretty good head start, once. He made better speed than the cat figured, and he lit out in angry pursuit. The mouse made a right turn without signalling, again catching the feline unawares, as it were, and the alley cat went straight ahead, into a showcase.

The cat was kayoed. He was completely out, and it took swiftest saits to revive him. And with a backward glance, the mouse went on about his business.

The moral seems to be: "Don't play with mice when there are smelling saits around," or something like that.

Skunk bones and grated coconut! That's the subject of a lengthy discourse in Verner Beck's Coastline Dispatch at San Juan Capistrano this week. Welcome this addition to the chillun's department. Let all youngsters read and take warning! Here she is:

Gather round, little chaplin, and we'll tell you what happens, and little boys who ought to stay out of the kitchen when Mama isn't home.

One little boy went into the kitchen and began grating coconut, thinking his Mama would make him a cake for his effort. While grating away, his older brother came home with the body of a little black and white animal which he intended to boil, so he could get the honey structure out intact for school work.

As he boiled the animal on the kitchen stove the smaller brother began to sweat, and tears got in his eyes. Then tears came to the older brother's eyes, and a terrible smell arose from the boiling pot on the stove.

For you see, the older brother was boiling a skunk.

At intervals the little brother stopped his grating to ask: "Ain't she done yet?"

"Nope, not yet," replied the other, giving a stir or two.

Pretty soon tears were rolling from their eyes, and their stomachs became terribly sick, but the brave little brother kept grating coconut, and the other kept boiling the skunk.

Soon all the neighbors were out on their porches, noses aimed at the sky, sniffing, sniffing, and sniffing. They wondered what in the world could have died with such a vengeance.

"Ain't she done - yet?" finally gasped the younger brother, while as a sheet, and sweating like a fat wrestler.

"Not - quite - little - brother," growled the older brother.

Just then their Mama came rushing into the kitchen, followed by the city sanitary inspector. They ran right out again.

The result was this: Little chillun—the boiling pot and the skunk were buried six feet under the sod, the coconut was buried with it. The boys didn't get their bones or coconut cake, but they got something else. The family had to move out of the house, and their Paps had to spend a couple hundred dollars getting the smell

HUGE STATE PARK DEVELOPMENT SOUGHT AT SEAL BEACH

STATE BOARD MAY AID IN PROJECT

Improvement Group Asks Action as 120 Owners Sign Petition

SEAL BEACH.—The state park board will consider a petition asking formation of a state beach park along more than a mile of ocean front in this city at its next meeting, it was learned here today from Mrs. Ruth Meissen, president of the Seal Beach Improvement association, organization of property owners in the Anaheim Landing section of the city.

The petition was presented to the secretary of the state board Saturday by Mrs. Meissen and Mrs. May Creveling, vice president of the body. The document asks the state board to take steps to purchase property owned by the Ord Land company east of the Anaheim bay bridge for a state park.

120 Sign Petition

More than 120 property owners of the Anaheim bay section of Seal Beach signed the petition. The move is a totally new one towards securing a state park here. Impetus was given the move to locate a park here last Friday when members of the state park commission accompanied officials of the American Shore and Beach Preservation association on a tour of the Southern California coast and inspected the beach property here.

The property which Seal Beach people would have the state park board purchase has long been a source of controversy. Property owners in the Anaheim bay district have claimed the ocean front area which they wish for a park was set aside at one time as a public beach. Landowners who have claimed title to the land have denied the claim. Several times threats have been made to take the matter to court but the action has never developed.

Refuse to Build

City officials have consistently refused permits for buildings on the stretch of land which lays within the city limits of Seal Beach. It is at present unimproved. The beach which would be acquired should the park board favor the plan, would be from 200 to more than 500 feet in width and would stretch from Anaheim bay to Surf Side colony.

Another state park plan proposed by civic leaders in Seal Beach more than two years ago concerning the ocean front in the main portion of the city has been abandoned, it was learned, since the ocean front improvement program inaugurated by the Security First National Bank and city officials.

G. G. JAPANESE GROUP MEETS

GARDEN GROVE.—Leading young Japanese orators of the county presented talks in both Japanese and English when the Orange County Japanese Young Men's association held its annual oratorical meeting at the Garden Grove Woman's clubhouse Saturday evening.

Speakers included Bill Okuda, Huntington Beach, who gave his salutatory address given at the June commencement program of the Huntington Beach High school on "The Citizen and the Administration of Justice." Kiyoko Bingo of Costa Mesa, also a commencement speaker last spring, spoke on the same subject.

Speaking in Japanese were Leonard Miyawaki, Orange; Joe and Hiroshi Ikeguchi, Keystone, Calif.; and S. Soski, the association advisor. A musical program included piano solos by Alice Ina, Garden Grove, and vocal solos by Nori Masuda, Santa Ana, who was accompanied at the piano by Rose Shinto, Garden Grove.

Announcements during the evening included that of a general meeting of the Orange county Japanese-American Citizens' league to be held at the Garden Grove Woman's clubhouse, Oct. 16.

Democrats to Meet at Beach

LAGUNA BEACH.—Definite plans for the present political campaign will be formulated at an organization meeting of the Laguna Beach Democratic club next Tuesday at 7 p. m., at the chamber of commerce offices, it was announced today by George E. Thompson, secretary.

At that time, he added, officers will be elected to fill vacancies. Arrangements for staging a Democratic rally on the evening of Oct. 27 also will be discussed.

Harry C. Westover, Santa Ana, candidate for the state senate, was principal speaker at pre-organization meeting of local Democrats held here Friday evening at the elementary school building.

100 ATTEND WESTMINSTER TEACHER'S RECEPTION

WESTMINSTER.—One hundred guests attended a reception given by members of the Presbyterian church Thursday night honoring teachers of the Westminster school district in the church hall.

Guests were received by the Rev. and Mrs. George Greer, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Larter, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hensley, Frank Eastwood, Craig Snadell, Ellamae Hylton, Mrs. Loraine Edwards, Mrs. Ruth Penhall, Mrs. Ethel Crane and Mrs. Merle Rhea, representing the church organization.

An address of welcome was made by the Rev. Mr. Greer, with Orion Bobermyer, superintendent of schools, responding and introducing the teachers, Francis Dell, M. S. Harder, Mrs. Irene Erdman, Miss Nellie French, Mrs. Hattie M. Palmer, Mrs. Iola Vail, Mrs. Aletha Ryckman, Mrs. Clara Cook and Mrs. Elsie Franzen Black of the Westminster school, and Nevin L. Otis, Mrs. Ethel Paulk, Mrs. Marguerite Marzano Micelli and Miss Helen McCoy of the Hoover school.

A musical program, which included numbers by members of the federal music project, violin solos by Ralph Greer, accompanied by Mrs. George Greer and readings by Virginia Peterson, Anaheim, was presented during the evening.

Refreshments were served during the evening by Mrs. Mae Finley, Mrs. Frances Hay and Mrs. Merle Rhea.

KILLING THE PIGS

(Boca Progress)

Killing pigs, plowing under corn and other crops, limiting acreage, increasing cost of living and then lowering agricultural tariffs, is a vicious circle that finally takes from the American farmers the benefits they were promised, and penalizes all consumers, so declares Judge Rex C. Goodell, former collector of internal revenue. He says:

"Food which should come from our own markets now must come from abroad because our crops were plowed under and our baby livestock slaughtered.

"This local example we have of the 18 ships, with their sides bulging with cargoes of foreign grain should be an object lesson for the experimenters and a warning to our citizens as to what to expect if the present administration is not ousted.

"Recently I was talking with a Riverside county supervisor who told me he had just bought 1000 head of cattle in Mexico. He said he was going to ship the cattle to a Long Beach packing plant and fatten them on corn brought from the Argentine.

"Here we have irrefutable evidence that the doctrine of scarcity is a failure. It drives American money into pockets of other countries for things we should have grown at home. It is reflected in the rising cost of living, and is directly caused by the present administration's policy of paying folks not to produce foodstuffs."

SING A SONG

(Coastline Dispatch)

In the days of the great war columns of soldiers sloshed dejectedly along the roads of France. A soldier burst into song, others took it up, and pretty soon everybody was singing and feeling much better.

We don't mean to insinuate San Clemente is in a state of war, but we think everybody over there is looking at life with brighter, happier eyes since last Sunday evening, when the Spanish Village folk gathered at the Social club for a good old-fashioned singing bee.

It's the first project undertaken by the revived Chamber of Commerce, and we believe, one of the best in the book, because a singing community is a happy community. There is music in every person's soul. Some of it may sound sour coming out, but mixed in with better quality voices, the

Scholarship to Be Awarded of H. B. Windsor Club

HUNTINGTON BEACH.—Students of the Huntington Beach Union High school have a new goal to shoot at today, a new objective to attain and new honors to win. The Windsor club, organization of young business men of Huntington Beach today announced, through President D. T. Tarbox, plans for presenting an annual scholarship award to one outstanding student of the school each year.

The award will be made on general ability of the student, class records, popularity, records in various activities of the school conduct and for other points which will be set up by the Windsor club.

Teachers of the school and students themselves will be asked to aid in deciding each year which pupil should receive the award.

HONOR PAIR AT HOUSE PARTY

MIDWAY CITY.—Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Meairs, who a few weeks ago took possession of the home they recently completed at 314 Roosevelt street, were honored Friday evening at the 18th series of housewarming events, planned for them by their friends when members of the married peoples' class of the Santa Ana Baptist church paid them a surprise visit. The group presented Mr. and Mrs. Meairs with a copper basket for the fireside.

The party included the Rev. and Mrs. Harry Evans Owens, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ferris, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth King, Dr. and Mrs. Fred Dean, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Arthur, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fink, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Harlow, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. ## SCOTT TALKS TO LAGUNA WOMEN

LAGUNA BEACH.—Men in all walks of life apparently can find time to tune in on "Amos 'n' Andy" as well as to get the football scores, but somehow they can't find time for study of important problems facing the nation, Joseph Scott, nationally-known Los Angeles attorney and political figure, declared in an address delivered here Saturday night before the Laguna Beach Women's club.

"Is It Worth While?" was the title of his talk, which, entirely devoid of any political partisanship issues, was devoted to constitutional government. Interwoven in his presentation of the subject was an impassioned appeal for preservation of American ideals, principles, and institutions.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Leslie F. Kimmell, president of the club, who presided at the meeting.

Pointing to conditions as they exist today in several European countries, Russia, Germany, Italy, and Spain, where there is little left of the democracy for which the World War was fought, Scott took a fling at the Soviet communist state in which not only individual liberty but freedom of conscience, as expressed in religious worship, has been curtailed, if not entirely suppressed.

Calling upon parents of the young people, particularly fathers, to wake up and acquaint themselves with what is going on in the world, Scott deplored apparent indifference on the part of a large majority of men to serious political and economic problems that eventually will affect their very own homes.

250 AT ORANGE STYLE SHOW

ORANGE.—Almost 250 women attended a style show and card party held Saturday afternoon at the Woman's club, sponsored by the Junior Matrons' section. In charge of the gigantic undertaking was Mrs. George E. Peterson, chairman of the ways and means committee of the section.

Card tables were placed in a small scroll formation, permitting models to pass each table. A prize was awarded each of the 62 tables. Local merchants cooperated with the club in providing latest in fall wear. Mrs. Mabel Faulkner, city librarian, described the costumes.

Models were Mrs. Gordon X. Richmond, Mrs. Paul K. Nelson, Mrs. B. D. Stanley, Mrs. V. D. Johnson, Mrs. George H. Peterson, Mrs. Thomas B. Rhone and Miss Mary Tom Cox, of the Woman's club and Junior Woman's club. Other committee heads were: Kraemer, Olive, and Mrs. Jo Lykke, Santa Ana.

Music was furnished by the Anna Archer trio. Tea was served at the small tables under the direction of Mrs. Alex Chastain and committee. Other committee heads were: tallies and score cards, Mrs. Paul E. Rumph; decoration, Mrs. Fred Bewley; tickets, Mrs. Noral Evans; music, Mrs. Christine Lambert; stage directing, Miss Marguerite Loeschner and candy sale, Mrs. Louis Fitchner.

Bolsa P.-T. A. Has 20 New Members

BOLSA.—The Bolsa P.-T. A. enrolled 20 new members at their first meeting held here Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Victor Schyling, president, conducted the meeting and named her committees for the coming year. Committees are: membership, Mrs. Glenn Scott, and Mrs. William Baile; publicity, Mrs. Roy Head; finance, Mrs. Mignon Waters; hospitality, Mrs. Glenn Scott, Mrs. William Baile and Mrs. Willis Caldwell. A potluck dinner for the evening of Oct. 23 was announced with Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Head and Mrs. Donovan in charge of the menu.

Mrs. H. C. Drown, president of the fourth district, was present and addressed members during the afternoon program. Present were Mrs. Lyons Reed, Mrs. Lucie Bolton, Mrs. Francis Stilling, Mrs. William Baile, Mrs. Glenn Scott, Mrs. Roy Head, Mrs. Mignon Waters, Mrs. Charles Patterson, Mrs. Roy Head, Mrs. Victor Schyling, Mrs. Gladys Bratsch, Mrs. Lillie Cosner and Mignon Waters.

Fire Fighting Course to Be Urged by County Group

It's Rinehart!

BUENA PARK.—Establishment of regular educational courses in fire fighting as well as fire prevention, arranged to form part of training of firemen in their duties as well as for the citizenry at large in an effort to reduce fire hazards, was recommended in a resolution adopted at the monthly meeting of the Orange County Firemen's association Friday evening at the fire hall here.

Speaking for adoption of the resolution, W. M. Fipps, Santa Ana, president of the association, pointed out that uniform courses in firefighting and fire prevention would be of particular value in small departments where there are limited facilities for training.

J. G. Martin, assistant division manager of the Ethyl Gasoline corporation, Los Angeles, gave an interesting and instructive talk on gasoline. On recommendation of Fire Chief Peter J. Bushman, Laguna Beach, Capt. William A. Meyers, Los Angeles, former president of the California State Firemen's association, now on the retired list of the Los Angeles fire department, was elected an honorary member of the Orange county association.

Resignation of First Vice President M. E. Willsey, Yorba Linda, was accepted, in which connection it was announced that Mr. Willsey is moving to Wyoming. It was announced that the San Gabriel Valley Firemen's association has asked for a joint meeting with the Orange county group.

PLANE FLIES NINE MINUTES Orange Model Club Has Meet

ORANGE.—The Ace Model club, a club of boys under 16 who build model planes, held an air meet Saturday morning in a field near the ice plant on North Cypress street.

Elton Barnett, commander of the club, won first honors, his plane remaining in sight for nine minutes before it disappeared. The advisor, Don Wing, with the aid of binoculars, saw the plane curve toward the earth near Olive.

Anyone finding the plane, described as having a blue fuselage, yellow wing and tail assembly, with a 30-inch wing span, is asked to return it to Elton or to the club headquarters in the Y. M. C. A. building.

The club is planning another meet in three or four weeks, and is inviting any boy under 16 in the community to enter, whether a member of the club or not. A small entrance fee will be charged to cover expense of prizes.

HOUSE-PARTY MURDER

CHAPTER XXXIV

In the library, the silence prolonged itself. Joan had finished her coffee before she noticed that the others had not touched theirs. Rodney was carefully examining a sealed bottle of brandy before he removed the cork.

"I guess this is safe enough," he said.

Stephen laughed nervously. "I hope so."

Joan, reassuring herself with the thought that the same trick would hardly be played twice, remembered Timothy's instructions and suggested bridge.

"It makes me nervous to sit still and do nothing," she explained. "You can count me out," said William. "I'm going to bed shortly."

Timothy glanced at the clock on the mantel. It was nearly eleven o'clock.

"I think we're all pretty well done in, Joan," he said quietly, and she understood that the bridge game was no longer a necessity.

The time was evidently ripe for his plan. She noticed that the lamp on the table was burning very low. Watching it and wondering how soon before it would flicker out, she felt a little cold shiver run up her spine. There was a sudden howl of the wind, and the eternal shudder began to bang again against the side of the house.

Timothy walked to the window and stood listening for awhile. Then he turned back with a shrug. "The storm is wearing itself out," he said. "By morning, I think, it will be clear."

"I hope so," Stephen murmured fervently. "There is nothing gets on my nerves like wind."

Rodney grunted something, and then there was silence again. The room was already a semi-darkness, cigarette smoke was thick in the air, and the lamp continued to burn low and lower. The smell was very unpleasant. It seemed incredible, Joan thought, that no one should notice it. Or was it because no one wanted to notice?

It was Stephen who suddenly called attention to the dimness. "I say," he exclaimed, "that lamp is going out!"

Timothy bent over it. "Needs kerosene," he said laconically. "Call Meyers, will you, Joan?"

Joan obeyed mechanically, going out into the hall. The door was almost out. Going as far as the dining room, she called Meyers. He appeared from the pantry almost immediately. His face looked ghastly in the increasing gloom.

"The lamps need kerosene," Joan said.

The butler moistened his lips. "Yes, miss," he said. "Well, get candles then."

"The candles have disappeared, miss."

Joan controlled a shiver. "Very well," she said quietly. "Stay in the pantry. I may need you later."

"Yes, miss," the man answered. Joan went back to the library. "There is no more kerosene," she said slowly, "and there are no more candles."

In the semi-darkness, five faces turned towards her apprehensively. "No light," William murmured, and Rodney let out an oath.

"What will we do?" Stephen asked.

As he spoke, the lamp flickered, smoked, and went out.

"The necklace," some one whispered.

And then, for a moment, there was silence—heavy, thick silence. Joan could feel her heart pounding, and she was trembling. Somebody struck a match, but it went out. There was a sharp exclamation from William as he barked a shin against a chair.

"There's a candle up in my room," he said suddenly. "I'll go get it."

ATHLETES OF H. B. FETED AT DINNER

HUNTINGTON BEACH.—European people are much more interested in sports than are Americans, the German people seem to think a lot of Adolph Hitler but the climate of Germany doesn't begin to compare with that of Southern California. Such were statements given to Huntington Beach sport fans and civic leaders here Saturday night at a banquet in the Memorial Auditorium honoring this city's Olympic team member, Mrs. Anne Vrana O'Brien and coaches and athletes of the Huntington Beach Union High school.

Mrs. O'Brien, who represented the United States in the women's hurdle races and in the broad jump told of her experiences while at the Olympiad at Berlin and expressed her gratitude to the sport lovers of Huntington Beach who formed the Anne O'Brien Club and financed her trip to Providence, R. I., where she qualified as a member of the Olympic team. A huge plaque was presented to the Olympic woman athlete by the Anne O'Brien Club as its last act. Members declared the club officially ended at the meeting.

High school coaches and athletes were also paid tribute at the meeting and told of school activities. Coach Harry Sheue introduced various members of the physical education department. Sheue is head of the department. Al Rebohn, former Santa Ana star athlete and U. S. C. football player was introduced as the new football mentor of the beach city squad. Other athletic instructors at the school were also introduced. Rebohn gave a brief talk.

John Africa of the Huntington Beach Windsor club, sponsor of the banquet along with the chamber of commerce and the Anne O'Brien Club, was master of ceremonies. D. T. Tarbox, president of the Windsor club, was in charge of the meeting.

Palestine Is Church Subject

ORANGE.—Colored pictures of life in Palestine, from the time of Adam to that of St. Paul, were shown Sunday evening at the Christian church by Mrs. J. Baker, Los Angeles. Mrs. Baker gave a talk which explained the scenes. She was introduced by the Rev. William Holder, pastor of the church.

HOLD RED AND WHITE STORE PICNIC

Smart and Final Group Joins Retail Men at Irvine Park

More than 250 Red and White grocers, Smart and Final employees, and their families had stiff muscles today, following their annual picnic in Irvine park yesterday, which included races, games, and other strenuous events.

B. H. Manker, general manager of Red and White stores in Orange county, was in general charge of the picnic event.

The Smart and Final employees reversed last year's decision in the annual baseball classic, nosing out the Red and White proprietors, 2-1. Don McFarren and George Krook of the Red and Whites and John Miller and Eddie Ronk of the Smart and Final organizations were winners in the horseshoe-pitching event.

Journal 'Extra'

A feature of the picnic was an "extra" edition of The Journal distributed by newsboys, containing news of the picnic and a startling article on the "kidnaping" of Roy Smith, Huntington Beach grocer. Smith's friends joked him considerably about the story.

Judges for the competition were B. H. Baker, George Krook, Howard Huggitt and Claude Smith, Red and White; and L. A. Parsons, Warren Webb, and Walt Wooster, Smart and Final. Events and winners:

Ice cream eating—Won by Mr. and Mrs. Edmonds, Pomona; Mr. and Mrs. Percy Gettle, Santa Ana; second, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Talbert, Talbert, third.

Fishing Wheelbarrow

Nail driving—Won by Mrs. Ben Andrews, second, Mrs. Edmonds, third, Mrs. Halloway.

Wheelbarrow race—Won by Montrose and McFarren; second, Wilson and Goodrich; third, Watkins and Frazee.

Coverall contest—Won by Mr. and Mrs. Montrose; second, Mr. and Mrs. Freddie Watkins; third, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Talbert.

Girls' race—Won by Marjorie Ennis; second, Cecilia Kruse; third, Mary Estup.

Ladies' can-rolling contest—Won by Miss Goodrich; second, Miss Estep; third, Mrs. Edmonds.

Golf Champ

Boys' race—Won by Edwards; second, West; third, Miller and Turley.

String-eating contest—Won by R. A. McPhee; second, Roy Smith. Miniature golf—Won by L. M. Bower; second, Walt Wooster; third, Viola Watkins.

Pop-drinking contest—Won by Mr. and Mrs. Dick McFarren; second, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Talbert; third, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Reintour.

Sports events were followed by a "scramble" for a huge pile of groceries. Motion pictures were taken of the events, and will be shown at the next general meeting of Red and White proprietors.

School "Hugging" Strike Ends as Principal Resigns

CHICAGO. (AP)—The "hugging" strike at the Union Bridge district school in suburban Norwood Park was definitely at an end today with former Principal Charles O'Hearn, the central figure, slated for a new position and his admirers preparing farewell honors.

Since his ouster as principal because of accusations by teachers that he had put his arms around them, O'Hearn, 28-year-old bachelor, has been serving as unpaid business manager.

Herman Reussow, president of the school board and chief defender of O'Hearn, announced.

"Mr. O'Hearn will leave here Oct. 2 to accept a position with a firm dealing in school supplies."

VOTE TODAY ON LOCAL OPTION QUESTION

Two measures dealing with liquor control will be on the general election ballot Nov. 3.

How do Santa Ana and Orange county feel about these measures? Will they be beneficial or otherwise? The Journal has published the views of leaders for and against these measures. Now The Journal would like to know how you feel.

A ballot form is printed below for your convenience. It provides for a "yes" or "no" vote on Proposition No. 9, Local Option; on Proposition No. 3, Liquor Control; and on whether you prefer the present system of control to continue.

Ballots may be mailed or brought to The Journal office, 117 East Fifth street. Results will in-

CCC WINNING BATTLE IN FORESTS

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Robert Fechner, director of emergency conservation work, announced the Civilian Conservation corps, co-operating with states and other federal agencies, is winning a nationwide battle to restore forest lands faster than they can be devastated by fire, insects, diseases and cutting.

"In the Far West and mountain states, the program has recognized fire protection, rather than tree planting, as the key to perpetuity," he said. "In the Midwest and East, it is tree planting." Fechner said a compilation showed the CCC, from April, 1933, when it was organized, to Aug. 1, 1936, planted 770,422,100 trees (seedlings), spent 2,840,865 man-days fighting forest and brush fires, built 2,538,929 erosion control dams, 77,428 miles of roads and trails, 49,679 miles of telephone lines, 2750 lookout houses and towers, 50,940 miles of fire breaks, reduced fire hazard on 1,555,462 acres, improved forest stands of 2,462,890 acres, conducted rodent control operations over 22,312,572 acres, and covered 12,089,371 acres in control of tree-attacking insects and diseases.

Science Church Topic 'Reality'

"Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him." These words of Paul to the Corinthians were the Golden Text in the Lesson-Sermon on "Reality" on Sunday in all Christian Science Churches, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

Among the Scriptural passages were the verses from Luke: "And Jesus returned in the power of the Spirit of Galilee; and there went out a fame of him through all the region about about. . . . Now when the sun was setting, all they that had any sick or afflicted with divers diseases brought them unto him; and he laid his hands on every one of them, and healed them." A correlative passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, stated: "It is not well to imagine that Jesus demonstrated the divine power to heal only for a select number or for a limited period of time, since to all mankind and in every hour, divine Love supplies all good."

PUPIL STRIKE MOB GASSED

CAMPBELL, O. (AP)—Police Chief Frank Cunningham today discharged two tear gas bombs among a crowd of striking high school students to disperse a demonstration in front of Memorial High school. The students fled to a hill sneezing and coughing.

Classes were suspended Friday when all but about 100 of the 1000 students refused to enter the building, in protest against the transfer of Michael Graban, a popular instructor, to a grade school. Superintendent of Schools Andrew Klinko explained that the transfer was routine, caused by smaller attendance at Memorial this year which necessitated elimination of some classes.

Poet's Legacy To University

CHICAGO. (AP)—Harriet Monroe, who died last week in the mountains of Peru, bequeathed the story of modern American poetry to the University of Chicago. Not in one volume was this story told, but in thousands—in priceless manuscripts and personal letters bearing the signatures of most of those who have achieved stature in American letters during the last quarter century.

Miss Monroe, mistress of verse and a veritable mother of poetry, guided the course of young writing men and women for 24 years. She founded the magazine, "Poetry," in 1912 and was still its editor last Saturday, when a visitor in Arequipa, Peru, she died at the age of 66. As a history of an art, her legacy perhaps has never been surpassed. Ten thousand volumes are its scope. It contains first editions of almost all the English, American and European poetry published in the period Miss Monroe called "The Renaissance."

New U. S. Wage Law in Effect

WASHINGTON. (AP)—A new law setting wage and hour standards for certain concerns doing business with the government went into effect today.

Called the Walsh-Healey act, the law was passed in the closing days of the last congress. Its chief provisions are requirements that holders of government contracts which amount to more than $10,000 must pay prevailing wage rates and pay overtime wages if their employees work more than 40 hours a week.

Although the law formally became operative today, the wages requirement will be applied only gradually. Officials said it would take several months before they could determine prevailing wages for all industries involved.

Triplets Born In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD. (AP)—Three baby girls brought into the world by a Caesarian operation, slept cozily in their cribs today, not far from the hospital room of their mother, Mrs. Myles E. Andrews, 30.

The triplets, Mrs. Andrews' first-born, weighed a total of 14 pounds, 12½ ounces. None will need the aid of an incubator, nurses said.

Ranch Fire Is Fatal to Woman

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—One life and $40,000 damage was the toll today of a fire which swept a Van Nuys ranch Sunday. Mrs. Cora M. Kygar, 46, wife of a caretaker, was burned to death and her husband, Harry, 52, was seriously injured in attempting to rescue her from their cottage.

CLEANERS URGE BETTER GOODS ADULT SCHOOL OPENS TODAY

Included among subjects discussed at a group conference of Southern California cleaners and dyers held Saturday night at Hotel Laguna was a proposed elimination from the retail trade of inferior quality as well as loosely woven fabrics which, on account of little tensile strength and heavy shrinkage do not lend themselves to ordinary processes of cleaning.

Lawrence E. Coffman, of the Washington Cleaners, Santa Ana, presided over the conference, which was attended by representatives from Los Angeles, Santa Ana, Long Beach, San Diego, Pasadena, Riverside and Santa Barbara. All those present were members of the National Association of Cleaners and Dyers.

An educational movement, having for its objective the elimination of inferior fabrics in the manufacture of textiles, was explained by A. O. Filgor, of the National Institute of Cleaners and Dyers, maintained at Silver Springs, Md.

THEY CAN OWN 'EM NOW HOLLYWOOD. (AP)—Filmland's favorite beach colony, Malibu, has been opened to land buyers by a federal court decision. Celebrities who have invested $3,000,000 in homes at the resort are now privileged to purchase outright the sites which they leased from a company undergoing reorganization.

Hundreds of "grown-ups" will go back to school tonight, as adult education classes sponsored by the city schools open for the year.

Registration for the courses is made in each class room. Information on classes and locations was published in Friday's Journal, or may be obtained from Mrs. Golden Weston, director, at 1342 North Ross street, telephone 4260.

STATE ELKS START WAR ON REDS

OAKLAND. (AP)—California members of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks took formal notice today of Communist activities, elected officers for the coming year, and adjourned to meet in 1937 in Pasadena.

The one resolution adopted pledged support to Salinas citizens "in protecting their homes, private property, and their government against Communists operating under the guise of legitimate members of organized labor, but who are not legitimate members of these labor organizations."

Anaheim Man Named
This was a reference to the current strike in the Salinas district of lettuce workers of the Fruit and Vegetable Workers' union.

L. A. Lewis of Anaheim, formerly exalted ruler of the Elks' lodge there, was elected president of the state group, and in a statement carried further the spirit of the resolution.

Anti-Red Program
"The California Elks' State association is no longer going to talk about Communism," he said. "It is going to fight the dissatisfaction and unrest being fomented in the United States by agents of Moscow."

"Concerted action to combat the effect of followers of communism will be taken, the first move originating within the association itself. We are going to see that every Elk in California is a subscriber to the theory of American democracy. It is impossible to be an Elk and a member of a subversive organization at the same time."

Men Like Girls Who Know Their Etiquette

Knowing what's expected of her—and of her escort in public certainly gives a girl enviable poise. The well-bred girl waits for her escort to open the car door. If she bounces out by herself, she makes it appear—as the man's embarrassment—that he doesn't know his etiquette. The girl of poise knows, too, that a man is expected to rise when she enters a room. She seats herself quietly to spare him the discomfort of standing long. In a restaurant she indicates her wishes to her escort—does not address the waiter directly.

She knows the proper form for introductions, what to say when the dance is over, how to conduct herself at table. Our 32-page booklet gives these and other details of etiquette. Learn the code of social usage!

THORN in the FLESH

By GLENN L. THORNE

Hats Off to Police Commissioner Plummer Bruns!

It takes a real man to make charges that local "big shots" are our biggest "parking hogs." And then have the names of 76 offenders revealed and warrants issued for lawyers, business men, newspaper men—with even a public official thrown in for good measure.

Previously Bruns had a survey made, and out of 525 cars checked in two days, at least 109 were business men or employees who had parked in front of their fellow business men's stores—who in turn had probably done the same thing.

These are just the ones we know of, and chances are the half has not been told.

We've had lots of talk on parking meters, parking time limits, etc., but like the weather, no one has done much about it—until Bruns made himself a committee of one to take a hand in the situation. Now we're all eagerly looking forward to free city parking lots. That ought to gladden the hearts of the 76 and the 109, plus the 40,000 rest of us.

Go to it, Bruns, we're with you, even if you did happen to step on a few toes that were in the aisle!

Happy Birthday

Keep Hair Follicles Open

Apparently one of the most insignificant conditions of the scalp is dandruff. In a mild form, there are no signs of inflammation and all that can be seen is the fine-powdery scales which fall upon the coat collar more or less constantly.

Slight scaling is a natural process as the top scales of the skin are shed.

It becomes a disease when excessive, and excites irritation of the other tissues of the scalp. Scratching results in an over-secretion of the natural oil which chokes the hair follicles. The hair is thus deprived of oil and nourishment, dies and falls out.

New hair grows and is followed by the same results. Sooner or later the hair gives up the fight and dies, leaving a bald area. The scalp has no use for the oil and fat glands and they also dry up. The scalp becomes thin, tense, usually shiny, and at last totally unable to grow hair.

A plugged-up hair follicle cannot function properly and the hair will eventually die. The hair follicles can be kept open by careful and frequent shampooing, followed by carefully rubbing into the roots of a mild antiseptic oil. Men and boys should have a shampoo at least once in 10 days. For women, who are exposed less to dust, once in two or three weeks is sufficient.

Soap and water remove the natural oil from the scalp and this should be replaced. After washing the hair will become dry and brittle. The habit of scrubbing the hair with cold water each morning is bad. The chilling of the skin closes the pores and checks the blood supply.

Bath Will Raise Spirit

By JACQUELINE HUNT
Dawdle in the bath tub every chance you get. This is the season for it. A warm, leisurely bath is the surest cure there is for discouragement, nerves and weariness.

Put a cake of your favorite scented bath soap in your tub, turn on the hot water and for good measure toss in a handful of pure white soap flakes or granules to insure a thick, foamy lather. Or throw a handful of the milk bath preparation that a well known beautician is offering.

Adjust the temperature of your water so that it is comfortably warm, step in and luxuriate in the fragrant lather for 15 minutes or more and when you step out you will feel as though all the little annoyances of life had been washed away with the day's accumulation of dust and perspiration.

Rinse off under a shower or tepid water. Or let the soapy water run out and refill the tub with cool, clear water. Take time to enjoy this operation and do a good job of rinsing all of the soap from your skin. Step out and envelop yourself in one of the giant bath towels—bath sheets, they are called. Pat your skin gently until entirely dry.

And now for a grand pick-up, give yourself a quick rubdown with a scented toilet water.

Now use dusting powder or not as you wish before you slip into fresh underthings, remove the remaining cream from your skin and apply your make-up.

A salt bath is also good when you are very tired. Soak a while in clear tepid water, then stand up in the tub and rub your entire body thoroughly with ordinary table salt for a few minutes. Then rinse this off, and rub the body again with a fragrant after-bathing oil or with your hand lotion. You will feel grand.

Mickey Mouse Has a Birthday

HOLLYWOOD. (AP)—The most famous little rodent in the world celebrated a birthday today.

Mickey Mouse is 8 years old. Hailed as an artist, decorated with 21 medals, popular with movie-goers in 80 different countries, big-eared, squeaky-voiced Mickey was "born of necessity," said his creator, Walt Disney.

Disney, 34-year-old veteran of animated cartoons, reputedly makes $500,000 annually from Mickey's career. It all started, he recalled, when he scraped up a friendship with a tame mouse in a back-room studio at Kansas City. The mouse used to crawl over Disney's desk while he worked. Disney named him Mortimer, then shortened it to Mickey.

'Phantom' Enters Davidson Home

Santa Ana's screen-cutting "Phantom" is back at work again, and police were redoubting their efforts to catch the midnight marauder who has victimized a score of homes here in the last two months.

"The Phantom" went to work again Saturday night, getting $80 in jewelry and cash from the home of E. A. Davidson, 410 East Camille street. He entered the house by cutting a small hole in the door lock, and entering with a pass key. He then ransacked the upstairs rooms after carefully pulling down window shades.

MUSTN'T TRAVEL
A 90-day sentence for reckless driving will be suspended for A. G. Conferas if he pays $5 a month and remains in Southern California, according to terms of a sentence Saturday in Justice Kenneth E. Morrison's court.

SALESMAN HELD
Paul C. Conner, 33, Los Angeles car salesman, was held under $1000 bail in the county jail today, following his arrest Saturday night by Anaheim police, who charge him with burglary.

Set of Crochet is Pert and Gay

PATTERN 5690

Wouldn't your youngster jump for joy if she had this cute crocheted hat and purse? It's the easiest thing imaginable to make—you'll never miss the time it takes. The perky, pompon trimmed hat is worked in rib stitch with plain crochet, round and round, and the corners tacked for a square effect. The cute purse is but two pieces, worked round and round. Use three-fold Saxony. In pattern 5690 you will find complete instructions for making the set shown; an illustration of it, and of all the stitches needed; material requirements.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred to Santa Ana Journal, Household Arts Dept., 117 East Fifth St. Be sure to write plainly your name, address and pattern number.

CLEVER FROCK FOR DRESS-UP OR EVERY DAY, SAYS MARIAN MARTIN

PATTERN 9980

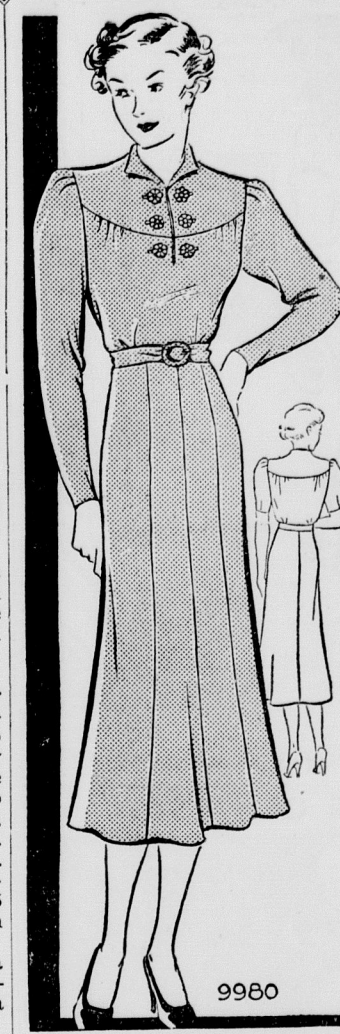

Make your fall and winter a success by having this charming Marian Martin frock ready for all your everyday and dress-up occasions; Certain to win admiration is its gracefully flared skirt, unusual little collar, and demure yoke! So simple is the easy pattern with its accompanying complete diagrammed sew chart, that you'll want to run up several versions in varied colors and fabrics! Choose luscious velvet, soft-toned satin, or metal-threaded crepe for your dressy model; and nubby crepe, sheer wool voile, cotton tweed, or colorful synthetic for your everyday style. Long or short sleeved versions are equally smart, and do choose some nice dressy buttons for a bit of added glamour.

Pattern 9980 may be ordered only in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32. Size 16 requires 3 1/2 yards 36-inch fabric.

Send 15 cents in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for each Marian Martin pattern. Be sure to write plainly your name, address and style number.

Be Sure to State Size
Just out—the new issue of our Marian Martin Pattern Book! Order yours today, and be first to make and wear its glorious new fall styles. Smart, appropriate things that you can run up in no time; frocks for home, business, street wear, sports and partying. There's lots for the youngsters, too. Don't miss this holiday gift suggestion! Book 15 cents. Pattern 15 cents. Twenty-five cents for both when ordered together.

Send your order to The Santa Ana Journal, Pattern Department, 117 East Fifth street, Santa Ana, Calif.

grey hat, clerks reported. He got $10 from a Main street furniture store, $5 from a North Main street market, and $10 from a dress shop.

Change Artist Makes Haul Here

A short-change artist who makes his living by getting change from $20 bills and giving clerks only $10 was caught by police today, as three Santa Ana stores marked down a total of $25 shortages in receipts.

The man, apparently a foreigner, was dressed in a grey suit and

Chocolate Is Favorite Dessert

By JUDITH WILSON

Chocolate, ever since the day of the Aztecs, has been a favorite for desserts, and one of the most popular now is this gay-sounding pie:

Add 3 squares of unsweetened chocolate to 2 1/2 cups of milk and heat in a double boiler. When the chocolate is completely melted, beat with a rotary beater to blend thoroughly. Combine 1 cup sugar, 6 tablespoons flour and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Add gradually to the chocolate mixture and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Continue cooking 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Beat 2 egg yolks and pour a small amount of the chocolate mixture over them, return to the double boiler and cook 2 minutes longer. Remove from the boiling water, add 2 tablespoons butter and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Cool. Slice 5 or 6 ripe bananas into a baked pie shell and pour in the chocolate filling. Slice bananas and arrange in a circle around the top of the pie and pile whipped cream in the center.

LION CLAWS BABY
L. A. V. E. C. S. Nov. (P)—A chained and presumably tame lion burst into snarling fury when 2-year-old Gail Chase approached to "pet the big dog." Her face and body torn by the animal's teeth and claws, the baby was treated at a hospital today for serious lacerations.

Santa Ana Parking Problem

SANTA ANA won't need parking lots or parking meters if Chief Howard has his Bluecoats—with the backing of the traffic court—really crack down on auto owners who are hogging downtown street stalls.

Up until now, the public has been treating the local parking ordinance like a joke and the police like practical jokers on April Fool morning. According to police records, there are 397 overtime parkers cited since June 1 who haven't even taken the police seriously enough to answer the charge.

We don't know what these overtime parkers did with the parking tickets. Perhaps they tore them up on the spot, or maybe they used them to line wastebaskets. One thing sure—they didn't bring them to court.

Reason for this, of course, is the fact that local authorities have been extremely lenient with parking law violators. There are signs now that this policy will be changed. Chief Howard is issuing warrants for 76 auto owners who have ignored TWO or MORE citations since June 1.

The Journal thinks that he is on the right track. The present parking ordinance is strong and broad enough to handle the situation. It simply needs to be rigidly enforced.

President of Statler Hotel Co. says that women's drinking in public places has elevated the places' "tone." "Elevated tone" is a much more refined name than "gin parlor," anyway.

The Cotton Belt

AS DISCUSSION seethes over the new cotton picking machine, which is expected to replace hundreds of hand laborers, some newspapers in the South's cotton belt have suggested that the new device be dumped into the Gulf of Mexico and others that laws be passed making it a crime to use one.

There is no doubt that the introduction of such machines should be done with care and consideration for the workingman—but to advocate any program forbidding use of the pickers is as foolish as King Canute's command that the tide not rise.

Gloomy Americans groaned that the automobile brought hardship to horse raisers and livery stable owners. Yet where thousands found employment in those lines, millions today get work in the automobile business in its many branches—and this country, through the automobile, has found pleasure in luxury and living that no nation has known before.

Keep your eye on the mechanical cotton pickers; as the years go by it will bring prosperity to the cotton belt.

Speaking of free speech, at Salem, Mass., in 1692, Rebecca Course was hanged because she could recite the Lord's prayer in Latin.

Voters' Yardstick

ALL PARTIES agree on one thing; the coming election in November is more important than election used to be when father was casting his first vote.

Not only candidates, but voters, have responsibilities. It is to weigh carefully the arguments submitted, and decide with an eye fixed firmly on the best interest of the country.

If the candidate has done no more than come out for something that everybody wants, including the other candidates, just forget it. He hasn't said anything.

If he goes on and tells how he aims to bring it about, then weigh his plans against those of the other candidates, and decide.

The time is past when candidates can ride into office because they favor propriety, progress and apple-pie.

Hitler reviewed a parade of 50,000 men carrying shovels. They'll be needed for grave-digging, maybe.

Era of Progress Opening

ONE of the brightest notes in the week's news is that people are crowding into California stores and shops at a rate of 10 per cent above last year. A Dun & Bradstreet report indicates that the flow of retail trade is swinging strongly upward and that the volume of business between now and Christmas will surpass any since the boom years.

This means that more people have money and are spending it than at any time in the past 6 or 7 years. It is a sign of restored confidence and faith in the future of America and the destiny of the Pacific coast.

California—Orange county especially—has a great future. Business reports indicate that we are again entering an era of growth and progress.

Now is the time to start budgeting the Community Chest campaign.

Forest Fire Menace

ROARING through tinder-dry forests and towns, a raging fire already has claimed several lives and done much damage to property on the Oregon coast.

The tragedy in the Northwest reminds us that Southern California has been extremely fortunate this year in not having many serious forest blazes. But the danger season is not over. The brush will remain as inflammable as gunpowder until after a soaking rain or two.

If you drive into the national forests or the brush-covered back country—be careful with cigarets and campfires. Don't start a conflagration.

Whimsies of O. O. McIntyre

Diary: Off to a pajama sale, buying a pair striped cinnamon brown and red that are a lulu. So breakfasting at a Lexington avenue cafe-teria, a dejected damozel at the same table telling me a sad tale of the city. And Leon Gordon, the painter, who is taking his daughter to Europe for tutoring.

Then walking interviewer had flagged Will Irwin. And turned to me and I did a right wig scoot into a lady's hat shop. Home and Frazier Hunt there, championing to be off to the wars, and so with many lady to the dock to welcome our Paris servant, Prosper Voltaire.

Dined at a Turkish cafe in Washington street Idwal Jones told us about. Then idled about Brooklyn bridge, now so drear in its desolation. And home, talking by phone to Roy Howard, who scoffs at thick rumors he's to retire. To bed reading Claude Bower's engaging chronicles of Jefferson.

Behind a Chinese laundry on West 46th street is a stone sculptor's abandoned workshop which has become the movie studio of Mary Ellen Bute, an eager maid from Texas. Miss Bute is producing short subjects for the screen which she calls "Visual Music." With these she portrays abstract impressions of what the eye sees when he ear hear music. Such notables as Stokowski, Turbi and Jock Whitney are interested in the experiment. No human beings appear in her offerings. She achieves effects through manipulations of such things as crumpled cellophane, velvet, egg-cups, spark plugs, ping-pong balls, lights and shadows and some striking camera angles.

Fred Astaire, for the edification of reporters of an outgoing liner, did a tap dance on a guard rail. A dangerous dido with a boat in dock, even by a precise and clear-headed expert. But it was topped by what to me is the most shuddery of all doings and told by the late and beloved George Buckley. He was a passenger several years ago on a ship bucking a raging sea. An inebriated fellow was cowering on deck as others watched through windows. Suddenly to climax his antics he hopped on the rail and began walking, tight rope fashion, the entire portside from post to post. Nothing, as is usual with drunks, happened.

Personal nomination for the season's most striking cinema comeback—that of Dolores Costello.

Dorothy Parker, literary folk hear, has her arm up in a figurative "never again" for Hollywood. She has been, the reports continue, greeting the California sunshine with a raw several months before she and her actor husband pulled up stakes to return to New York. Miss Parker created quite a stir upon arrival in the cinema capital, sharing honors with the veteran acid-tongued Mrs. Earl Campbell as mistresses of withering sarcasms. She assisted in a scenario or so but somehow did not take talent-sufficed Hollywood in usual stride. Considered the sharpest of feminine wits in New York, there seemed no field for her activities in the metropolis of the motion picture. Miss Parker has purchased a sylvan retreat in the Pennsylvania Poconos. And admirers hope she will again turn to poetry—her output so far winning only several all-too-thin volumes.

Jack Pearl is about the last of the sputtering Dutch comedians. He zoomed to stardom in a Ziegfeld show, later became a radio star and had top billing in a movie. But there seems no niche for his talents lately—a fate also of rube comedies. But Pearl is young, clever, has been thrifty in productive years, and is capable of changing his pace. And of being out front again.

Bagatelles: Tony Canzoneri likes light-topped buttoned shoes. Jimmy Cromwell, Dorothy Duke's husband, goes in for those big flowered Hawaiian bathing suits. The Eugene Lyons apartment has become one of the Sunday afternoon haunts of the literati. When one of those itinerant flower peddlers stuck his head, Jack out of the box like, in Earl Benham's auto the other evening, it so frightened Benham that he jittered: "If I gave you a million you wouldn't have if I could." That was telling him! (Copyright, 1936)

Bright Moments

Scientists at a lamp company have announced a new ray which is a germ-killer. The new lamp is expected to be used to control microorganisms which are responsible for the annual loss of millions of dollars through food spoilage. The ultra-violet radiations destroy mold and bacteria. The ray is developed by a new gas which is contained in a small tube, much like neon signs, and electric current is sent through the tube. It was developed after nine years' study.

EVERYDAY MOVIES

I should say I did have a grand time! I only bought two dinners for myself all the time I was abroad.

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

(Editor's Note: Again the irrepressible Merry-Go-Rounders find they can't keep out of the swim too long at a stretch. This time it is Bob Allen who interrupts the procession of guest columnists with news that, he insists, just has to go into the paper first.)

CHICAGO—Warring factions at the Republican national headquarters here have now buried the hatchet.

Their under-cover feuding, which a few weeks ago threatened to weaken the Landon campaign, has been settled and all the family is now reasonably harmonious. There is still some muttering and scowling, but that is always present in a large and hurriedly-assembled organization.

The row was between Hill Blackett, head of the big advertising firm of Blackett-Sample Hummert, on one hand, and old-line G. O. P. politicians who couldn't see Blackett's plans for an elaborate "educational" program to sell the country on the idea that the New Deal was sinful, wasteful, reckless, etc., on the other.

The politicians were in full agreement with Blackett on this point. They differed with him on strategy.

It was all right, they contended, to sell the country on the theory that the New Deal was bad medicine, but where did that leave the business of selling Landon and getting out the vote on election day?

BELL-WETHER

William Bell, president of the American Cyanamid Co., the money raiser of the Republican committee, backed up Blackett.

Bell was the originator of the G. O. P. brain-trust, greeted last spring with much means of acquiescence by Republican politicians who had been post-shotting the New Deal brain-trust for three years. His faux pas, however, did not discourage Bell.

He held fast to his belief that the only way to lick the administration was by means of an political brain. Also, he stood pat on his contention that if he was to raise money he was going to have some say about spending it.

The politicians counted on National Chairman John Hamilton, an experienced organizer as well as a supporter. But Hamilton was galling about the country, making speeches.

Things got so bad at one point that Blackett wasn't speaking to Al Kirchhofer, in charge of press publicity, and Kirchhofer wasn't speaking to Blackett.

LANDON INTERVENTION

Kirchhofer incurred the displeasure of Governor Landon by holding up the campaign handbook, previously prepared, in order to rewrite it. Finally Landon himself telephoned Kirchhofer that campaign speakers needed the book, and to get busy.

Finally the whole mess was cleared up through further intervention by Governor Landon. He quietly advised Chairman Hamilton to cut short his grandstanding tour and take charge of things in Chicago. Hamilton obeyed.

Now, after several weeks of peacemaking, including a big pep meeting, a compromise has been patched up.

Blackett has full charge of radio, movies, and billboards. Kirchhofer is in full charge of press publicity. The numerous racial, lingual and other political divisions have been assured of funds and full opportunity to do their stuff.

Blackett took a week off to rest and calm down in preparation for launching his elaborate "educational" program Oct. 1, and everybody appears to be happy.

FAST ORGANIZATION

The G. O. P. campaign staff here is one of the largest and most diverse in history.

There are 776 persons on the payroll. This does not include the large staffs in the New York and Washington offices.

The Chicago setup is so big that it startled Governor Landon when he learned of its size. On his birthday, recently, a huge scroll greetings was got up and each member of the Chicago office signed it.

Presented to Landon in Topeka, he scrutinized it open-eyed.

"Do all these people work in the Chicago headquarters?" he asked. "Yes, governor."

"Gosh, what do they do?" he pleaded.

REV. GERALD L. K. SMITH

The Rev. Gerald L. K. Smith is all washed up as a Townsend movement big shot. The big, belting disciple of the late Huey Long hasn't been apprised of the fact yet, but the "old Doc," as Dr. Francis Townsend is called by his associates, has decided to dispense with his services.

Gilmour Young, able and self-effacing "brains" of the organization, has been given the word to apply the ax.

Whether the job will be performed publicly or done quietly has not yet been decided. Some of the inner Townsends, who opposed Smith's intimacy with Townsend from the very start, want the ouster executed with a bang. Others favor a discreet operation. Two reasons underlie the split: One, Smith has proved to be a very expensive friendship. When he elbowed his way into Townsend's good graces, during the house investigation last spring, the "old Doc" thought Smith would be a good investment. He had the idea that what his movement needed was a good rable-rouser and that Smith's forensic talents would produce large collections at the rallies he addressed.

This was the case at the Townsend convention, where an appeal by Smith resulted in several baskets full of lucre.

But since then his returns have been meager while his expenses bear some resemblance to the Roosevelt debt.

GOOD TALKER

One of Smith's chief boasts is the great power he wields in Louisiana. He loves to tell listeners how close he was to the Kingfish, what influence he exercised in his councils.

A Townsendsite to whom he was telling all this, inquired: "Well, Gerald, if you are such a big shot down home why don't you go to Louisiana and put over the Townsend plan there?"

"It's this way," Smith replied. "Down in Louisiana, if you make a speech, they will talk about it for two years. They are still talking about the speeches I made there last year. I am not due back until next year. Once every two years is enough for me to keep them talking."

Note: Also headed for the guillotine is George Mains, another Huey Long henchman, who worked his way to a high position in the Townsend organization.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

SEPT. 28, 1911

The Walnut Growers association house and office is now open for business. They invite all growers of walnuts who are not members of the association to call at the office, investigate their method of doing business, and join, according to A. C. Tiede, secretary.

This year Miss Vina Peterson is principal and Miss Fannie Hastings assistant teacher at the Newhope school. Last evening the young ladies were given a surprise reception by the patrols at the schoolhouse. A very nice program was rendered, games were played, and refreshments served.

The Fraternal Brotherhood of this city has commenced a campaign for members, the lodge being divided into two sides, Poppies and Poinsettias. Miss Nina Sutton is captain of the former while Mrs. Ella Greenleaf will captain the Poinsettias.

E. W. Hardy left today for Seattle, where he has a three-month bookkeeping engagement. Mr. Hardy was for seven years in the Commercial bank of this city, leaving it when the institution consolidated with the Farmers and Merchants National. The family will remain here.

Mrs. W. R. Edwards and Miss Katherine Edwards, of Laguna, went to Pasadena today to visit friends.

One Man's Opinion

By Duncan Ellsworth Clark

EDITOR'S NOTE—Here is an informative, analytical daily feature on current topics. The opinions expressed in this column are not necessarily the same as those held by The Journal.

Give Us a Moratorium on Fears

AMERICAN travelers returning from Europe are much wrought up over the prospect of immediate war. Their observation, brief and superficial as it necessarily is, in some ways, is worse than no observation at all. To an American, marching men, blaring bugles, fluttering flags are symbols of war. These things occur here only when war is upon us. We forget that these conditions are more or less normal to European peoples. We overlook, too, the fact that European wars come with startling suddenness and not because the groundwork has been laid for long periods.

Maybe it would help to have a moratorium on travel to Europe. Travelers get so jittery at the martial sights and sounds in every European capital. It might help, too, if all "news" were cut off from that quarter of the world. With rigid censorship in every country, and most of the news faked or inspired by authority, we could get along very well without hearing anything about them. We could get along very well without it by avoiding the insanity from abroad.

There are rather definite indications that the war tension has lessened. The Spanish situation, dangerous to European peace as it is, seems less of menace than it was two years. They are still talking about the speeches I made there last year. I am not due back until next year. Once every two years is enough for me to keep them talking.

Note: Also headed for the guillotine is George Mains, another Huey Long henchman, who worked his way to a high position in the Townsend organization.

CHAIN STORE TAX

To the Editor: Much is being said about the proposed chain store tax. This is a measure to help the wholesale grocers and jobbers. The person whose name is used the most in these discussions—I refer to the independent grocer—will benefit very little from such legislation, but the jobber will have a good excuse to charge more for his merchandise if there are no chain stores to buy from him at prices they can pay and still sell to most of us.

Last year the oversupply of canned peaches was absorbed by the chain stores. This year the dried fruit crop is said to be in line to benefit in the same way.

The last but most important reason we have chain stores is this: Nearly all of us have incomes that correspond to the scale of prices charged by the chain stores. If they are abolished we have to pay the increased prices independent stores will charge because of increased prices to them, then many of us will not be able to afford curves and extra poundage. It is true that chain stores have closed many independent stores and it is also true that the average wage scale of chain store employees is higher than that paid in independent stores. Taking it by and large, why starve us out to aid the middleman, who, more than likely, rides by our home in a finer car than we can afford.

RUSS DIXON.

Remarkable Remarks

Women, by gollyes, are braver than men. . . you just tell 'em what you want 'em to do and they go ahead. Men, they stop to figure it all out.—Steve Clement, Hollywood, professional knife thrower.

I don't care who's elected, they are not going to repeal the social security bill or relief. In the last analysis it's all a question of who's going to control the patronage.—James J. Walker, former mayor of New York.

By the time Alex Brownridge was ready to start on his trip to Scotland he had a memorandum book filled with addresses which were given to him by Santa Ana and Orange county friends. Alex Walker was a contributor to his long list of "who to see." He gave Brownridge the location of a friend in Glasgow with instructions not to fail. So when Alex called, Walker's friend was not at home, and Brownridge was glad of it because he was sure the fellow couldn't pronounce his own name, but it surely had the Scotch whang.—McWhannel.

Rodney Bacon had his clerical force enclosed in the regular announcement he sends to me every month, an additional piece of literature which reads: "This ticket and twenty-five cents will admit you to the California electrical age exposition," but he forgot to enclose the twenty-five cents. I've got more tickets now with a string to them than I can use.

Note on my typewriter: "Sixty minutes after 2 o'clock. There is nothing to indicate it is from the Black Legion, and maybe it isn't, but I have an uneasy feeling that if the appointment is not kept it will be for me than if I had fallen into the hands of that mysterious klan which kills people just for the murder of it."

Made one of my pastoral calls on E. H. Long, now in charge of the circulation department of The Journal, to find out "how come and where from," and did that bird give me a flight. When Iowa was a much younger state than it is now E. H. Long was "hooked" over the prairie land in the Hawk-Eye state, soliciting subs for the Des Moines Register, and the Homestead. He gave me a lot of information, but when he admitted having been born in the same town made famous by John Louis of the C. P. A., then I wiggled my ears and asked questions, because the best part of my household is from Knoxville, and I know that's a good recommendation. Long has been attached to the circulation departments of newspapers so long—no wise-crack intended—that he is at home wherever he hangs up his hat. Come in and see him. If I can get along with him you can.

Skinny Skribbles

Around and About Town

With C. F. (Skinny) SKIRVIN

Only by comparison can we get an adequate appraisal of our blessings. A friend confessed his uncomplaining attitude when after a pleasant week's vacation spent at one of the nearby springs resort he complained about the brevity of the vacation. Then it occurred to him that only a few days previous he had talked with his friend who had not had a vacation for about 8 years, so the picture changed to one of thankfulness, and the crab spirit was kicked out the front door.

"Shorty" Robinson persuaded me to take a chance on some sort of a shirt racket. I got by with 10 cents. Well, that'll buy me a shirt. I should worry.

California Republicans made no mistake when they chose Justus Cramer for chairman of the state central committee. He has the ability, the acquaintanceship, and the energy to meet the ramifications of political expediences. The position isn't filled by just naming a man. It's got to be the right man. That holds good in any line of endeavor. Cramer takes into the office long years of political experience. He generates a lot of enthusiasm, is a tireless worker for anything to which he pledges himself, and the party can expect a vigorous administration under his leadership.

This item is written Saturday afternoon. By Monday you will know the highway score of fatalities. They are getting so numerous. I'm almost afraid to stay home. Notice where some wild driver preferred the front lawn to the pavement. He got by half the porch but the other half stopped him.

Some 2000 years ago an iniquitous betrayal was made of the most helpful human character the world has ever known, for thirty pieces of silver. Since that time similar incidents have occurred in things material to the distress and injury of individuals and communities, for pecuniary compensations of such insignificance that it is difficult to imagine to what lengths ingratitude will go. It arouses again that age-old question: "Does every man have his price?" Personally I refuse to accept that label. There are millions who have not bowed the knee to Baal, and never will. But it is disheartening to encounter incidents where the compensation for favors turns to gaul.

The Santa Fe hospital in Los Angeles has sent home Gar Ross, so there was a ray of sunshine at the football game. Gar has been devoting altogether too much time to the surgeons, and not enough to his friends. Hope the repairs to this time are perfect and that we can get acquainted with him again.
